Indian Held In Sandhills Axe Slaying

Rushville Couple Beaten To Death In Ranch Home

RUSHVILLE, Neb. — (AP)—A South Dakota Indian was in custody here today in connection with a double-slaying in the nearby sandhills ranch country which went undiscovered for several days.

Sheridan County Sheriff F. L. Green said the Indian was arrested at dawn today at the home of his parents 55 miles east of the Pine Ridge reservation and 30 miles north of here.

Find Missing Car.

Nearby was found the car missing from the ranch home of J. W. Stollar, 60-year-old sandhills rancher, and his 58-year-old wife, Grace. The beaten bodies of the Stollars, apparently dead since about last Thursday, were found at their ranch home 30 miles southeast of here Saturday night.

The Indian did not resist arrest but has stubbornly refused to answer questions or say a word, the sheriff said. An Indian sheriff, Louis Mosseau, aided in the arrest.

Writing a Letter.

The sheriff also disclosed discovery of a blood-covered axe at the Stollar home. Stollar's body was found under debris in a shed, his gloves on, indicating the slayings occurred in the daytime while Stollar was at work. Mrs. Stollar was sitting in a chair preparing a meal and writing a letter when she was fatally beaten, evidence indicated.

Mailman Garth Kettleman of Alliance delivered meat to the ranch last Thursday, found no one at home, and put the meat on the table. When he found the meat undisturbed Saturday he called relatives in Alliance.

An autopsy underway at Alliance today may give further clues, the sheriff said.

SUCCESS OF DUTCH GROWING

Military Command Reports Capture Of Coal, Oil Regions

BATAVIA, Java. — (AP) — Dutch military headquarters announced today sweeping new successes in eastern Sumatra, reporting the capture virtually intact of vital coal and oil regions more than 100 miles from the jumping off point of Dutch troops at Palenbang.

The advances were announced as the Netherlands navy ordered the Java ports of Cheribon, Probolinggo and Banjoewangi opened immediately to normal trade in an effort to get great stores of captured raw materials moving to world markets.

In two separate communiques, the Dutch announced that they had captured the rich Sumatra oil field town of Batoeradja, 80 miles southwest of Palembang, and the important Boekit Assam coal mines, 20 miles farther to the southwest.

Peterson's Speech Keynotes Opening Midwest Council

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich.—(AP)—More than 200 officials and legislature members from 14 states met here today for the annual Midwestern Conference of the Council of State Governments.

Gov. Kim Sigler formally opened the three-day session, which was keynoted with an address by Nebraska State Senator C. Petrus Peterson on "Can the States Do the Job?"

Faced with the need for money to finance expanding state services, delegates agreed that fiscal and educational problems head their list of worries.

One of the top items of discussion was sources of revenue to help cities and school districts meet the financial demands arising from increased salaries and the need for enlarging school plants.

Man Is Held In Stabbing Of His Wife

. . . At Des Moines

DES MOINES, Ia. — (AP) — About eight hours after the nude and battered body of his wife had been found on the floor of their apartment, Farris E. Cook, 27, last night walked into police headquarters and said he had killed her, Detective Lt. P. D. Cavender reported.

The woman, Mrs. Vera Margaret Cook, 33-year-old waitress, had been found beaten and stabbed three times in the chest with an ice pick, Cavender said.

No charges were filed against Cook immediately.

Lutherans' Synod Marks Its Centennial

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio, and other states embarked upon its second century yesterday.

In a centennial service in Soldier Field, with pastors and laymen participating, Rev. John W. Behnken, president of the synod, said, "Never before in history have such frightful conditions confronted Christians. Two years have elapsed since hostilities ceased and still there is no peace—only hatred and bitterness, agony and suffering, distress and turmoil."

Rev. Behnken added, "Into that kind of a world God has placed us and blessed us so abundantly. He has done this for a purpose. On this glorious occasion we should pledge ourselves anew to feed the hungry, to clothe the naked, to bring spiritual aid to the despairing; in short, wholeheartedly to support our church's program of physical and spiritual relief."

Mrs. Marie Elmen, Former Lincoln Teacher, Dies

Mrs. Marie L. Elmen, wife of George P. Elmen, passed away Sunday at her home, 1427 South Twenty-first. She is survived by her husband, and son, Winfield M. Elmen; a daughter, Elizabeth Elmen; a sister, Amanda J. Sundean; and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Elmen was graduated from Lincoln high school and attended the University of Nebraska. Prior to her marriage she taught in the public schools and was an assistant at the Lincoln city library. She was one of the organizers of the literature department of the Lincoln Woman's club and its leader for some time.

Mrs. Elmen was a member of First Church of Christ, Scientist, and of the Tuesday Review club. She was the daughter of pioneer residents of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Lars Sundean.

Services will be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday at Roberts chapel, Oak Davis officiating. Private interment will be at Wyuka. The family requests no flowers.

5,000 Youths Disappeared In Russian Zone Of Berlin

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Monsignor James H. Griffiths of New York said today that clergymen visiting in Europe were "reliably informed that more than 5,000 young boys have disappeared off the streets of Berlin in the Russian zone."

Msgr. Griffiths is one of 13 Catholic, Protestant and Jewish clerics just returned from a 35-day visit to Europe at the invitation of the war department. They held a mass news conference before reporting to Secretary of War Royall.

Msgr. Griffiths, chancellor of the Roman Catholic ordinariate which selects Catholic chaplains for the armed forces, said the clerics also were given to understand that young boys were disappearing from Vienna streets.

He stressed that his information about the youths, whom he described as between 12 to 17 years of age and showing qualities of leadership, was authentic as far as the Berlin reports were concerned. He said he was not able to identify these sources but they were absolutely reliable.

Cambridge Student Awarded Scholarship

Winner of one of 20 national commander scholarships, made annually by the American Legion to sons of deceased veterans, is Ross D. Newcomb of Cambridge.

Ross Newcomb

Announcement of the award was made Monday at the 29th annual Nebraska department convention in Omaha. The scholarships are worth up to $1,200 in any university or college.

Newcomb will continue his education at the University of Nebraska, where he is majoring in physical education.

Delegates Arrive For Conference

'World's End' Preaching Discounted By Bishop

More than 2,000 delegates from 48 states were converging on Lincoln Monday for the National Methodist Rural Life conference which will be held at the University of Nebraska Tuesday through Thursday

The meeting has been called by the council of bishops in co-operation with the general boards of the church to develop a program and policy toward the rural church and rural development and to create an interest in the problems of lifting the level of life in the farming areas.

The meeting, which will be attended by 13 bishops, is the first of its kind to be held.

Interest Rural Members.

Bishop William C. Martin, Topeka, Kas., resident bishop of the Kansas-Nebraska area, who will officially open the meeting Tuesday morning, stated that four-fifths of the Methodist congregations are in rural areas and the conference is being held in the interests of those church members.

In a broadcast from Lincoln Sunday Bishop Martin stated that "it must be acknowledged with shame that the church has been unpardonably slow in recognizing its responsibility to the farm areas."

The bishops pointed out that often rural preaching, especially rural evangelism, has been detrimental to agriculture. With its

14-YEAR-OLD GIRL MISSING SINCE SUNDAY

Police were searching Monday afternoon for a 14-year-old girl, last seen at the Muny swimming pool about 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The girl, Lillian Rico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Braulio Rico, 924 North Nineteenth, is described as five feet, one inch tall, slight build, blonde hair, brown eyes.

When last seen she was wearing a white blouse, trimmed in yellow, and a red and green flowered skirt. Her parents indicated that she may have decided to visit a friend in York.

Navyman Now On Trial Gets Decorations

NEW YORK — (AP) — Navy Chief Signalman Harold E. Hischberg, 29, of Brooklyn, who is standing general court-martial on charges of having beaten fellow prisoners in a Japanese prison camp, was decorated Friday by the army for his part in the defense of Corregidor, it was disclosed today.

Hirshberg, also accused of having informed on prisoners who planned to escape, was called from the brig to receive the army distinguished unit badge with oak leaf clusters from Marine Capt. James G. Petrie. His court-martial was in recess until today upon the request of the defense.

Hirshberg, who was a section leader in a Japanese prison camp when the alleged offenses took place, was notified last February that he had been recommended for the award, but presentation was delayed because he was in the brig awaiting court-martial.

The award came through last Wednesday, with an order that it was to be presented "with congratulations."

Recommend Halting Muny Surplus Sales

The city surplus property disposal board determined Monday to recommend no further sales of Muny airfield property until the need for such property in the new veterans' housing project has become evident.

L. H. deBrown, employed by the city to supervise the sale of surplus property, will devote his attention to the razing of buildings and stockpiling of the material to be set aside for use by veterans.

Service Will Be Simple

Mother Truman Goes To Rest On Shaded Knoll In Kansas City

GRANDVIEW, Mo. — (AP) — Mrs. Martha Ellen Truman, daughter of a Missouri pioneer farmer and mother of the nation's president, will be buried this afternoon on a shaded knoll in Kansas City—the town where she was born 94 years ago.

The ceremony will be simple and private, as the mother and her devoted son, Harry S. Truman, had previously agreed. The funeral services beginning at 3 p. m. (CST) in Mrs. Truman's plainly furnished living room were for the family alone.

Only three or four cars will follow Mrs. Truman's cortege on its 17-mile trip to Forest Hill cemetery from the little cottage on dusty, unpaved Feland avenue in Grandview, near the Frisco railroad tracks.

Friends Are Present.

Forest Hill cemetery made ready graves 8 in block 43, lot 85. In the same lot rests John Anderson Truman, the president's father. The location is the top of a rolling hill, under maples, elms and oaks. John Truman was buried there Nov. 4, 1914.

On the door of the cream-colored frame house was a funeral wreath of purple and white. Inside, at the foot of a simple, silvery casket, was a single great cluster of red roses. In the open casket, where close friends said their goodbyes yesterday, lay Martha Truman in her favorite blue dress—a dress she bought last February to wear on a visit to Harry in the White House.

Won Nation's Fancy.

That trip was never made, because a fall on Feb. 13 fractured her hip and led to the heart strain which brought about her death. On an earlier visit—for Mother's day, 1945—she had captured the nation's fancy by exclaiming "fiddlesticks!" at the fuss made about her.

Grandview held an official "day of mourning." The community of 1,200 had put out its flags and lowered them to half-staff. Its citizens were not demonstrative; they said they became reconciled last May to losing their most famed inhabitant.

Grandsons And Nephews.

The pallbearers were easily decided—her four grandsons, and two nephews. The grandsons, children of J. Vivian Truman, who farms near Grandview, are J. C. Truman, Fred L. Truman, Harry A. Truman and Gilbert Truman. The nephews are Maj. Gen. Ralph E. Truman of Kansas City, and Murray T. Colgan who lives near Kansas City. The surviving daughter is Miss Mary Jane Truman, who lived with her mother.

. . . Hundreds Of Bills

WASHINGTON— (AP) — The legislative work of the first session of the 80th congress is ended for the members but enrolling clerks and President Truman still have plenty to do.

Piling up on the president's desk are numerous legislative acts passed during the closing days of the session. And stacked on desks of congressional enrolling clerks are scores more, being checked and prepared to be sent along to the white house.

Senate and house clerks would not guess how many bills still are "in the mill," but figured on sending about 100 to the president today and tomorrow.

The president has 10 days, not counting Sundays, to decide what he wants to do about bills after they reach him.

MRS. B. F. BAILEY

Mrs. Bailey, City Social Leader Dies

Longtime Resident Active In Many Groups

Mrs. Benjamin F. Bailey, 84, widow of Dr. B. F. Bailey, died Sunday night following an illness. Her home was at 5345 South street. Mrs. Bailey has been one of Lincoln's most active social leaders for more than half a century and played a prominent part in the cultural development of the city.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the First Plymouth Congregational church, with Dr. Raymond McConnell officiating. Myron Roberts will play the organ, and burial will be at Wyuka. The family requests no flowers.

Dr. Bailey, nationally known physician and surgeon and active civic leader, died in 1944.

Mrs. Bailey was a charter member of the Lincoln Woman's club and one of the original organizers of the Lincoln City Mission. She was a member of the mission's board of directors for many years.

As a lover of the arts, Mrs. Bailey was active in the Lincoln

REFUGEE VESSELS STOPPED

Ships Jammed With Immigrants Who Now Are To Be Deported

HAIFA — (AP) — British naval forces escorted into Haifa harbor today two small wooden vessels jammed with approximately 1,100 uncertified Jewish immigrants and immediately transferred most of them to waiting British ships for deportation to Cyprus.

Both refugee ships were sponsored by Haganah, Jewish underground organization, in a new campaign to smash the British blockade barring Jewish immigration to the Holy Land.

The first ship to arrive today was the 300-ton motor-powered caique "Return to ion"—originally-named the Luciana — loaded with 396 immigrants whom a Jewish source said had come from a North African port. The vessel carried a sign reading "Haganah ship" and flew the Zion flag.

Most of the passengers, said to be chiefly Oriental Jews, were young and most were in rags. Many were barefooted.

The second ship to arrive was the three-masted schooner Bruno of Rome, which had been re-named "the 14 Heroes of Ez Zib" in memory of the members of the Jewish underground who died while blowing up a bridge last year near the Lebanon border. Her 700 passengers appeared to be mostly middle European Jews.

Only 148 Combines Needed As Harvest Moves To Panhandle

The number of custom combines needed in the Nebraska winter wheat harvest fields was down today as the harvest moved into the panhandle area.

Farm labor offices at the University of Nebraska said only 148 were needed today. Listed by highways:

Highway 81, 14, 281—43 machines at Red Cloud, Hastings, Clay Center.

Highway 193—34 machines at Alma, Holdrege, Minden.

Highway 83—21 machines at Trenton, North Platte.

Highway 19—50 machines at Sidney and Kimball.

3 More Polio Cases In Omaha Hospital

OMAHA—(AP)—Douglas county hospital attendants listed three new polio patients today — one from Pierce, Neb., and two from Omaha.

Vernon Riggeri, 19, of Pierce was admitted to the hospital late Saturday night. Admitted Sunday and today were Mary Novotny, 14, of Omaha and Donald Humphreys, 13, of the Omaha Masonic home. All three were reported in fair condition today.

2 Men Drown Swimming In Nemaha River

. . . Near Talmage

Two were drowned Sunday afternoon in the Nemaha river, three miles north and one and a half miles west of Talmage, one in an unsuccessful attempt to save the other, Otoe county Sheriff Carl Ryder told the Star Monday.

The drowning victims were Gilbert Juilff, 31, a farmer living near Talmage, and Harold Poggemeyer, 35, a Syracuse mechanic.

According to Ryder the two men were swimming in the river about 4 p. m. Sunday when Juilff started to go under. Poggemeyer attempted to rescue him but both went down. A third member of the party, Harlan Bruin, 21, Talmage, summoned help but efforts to retrieve the swimmers proved futile and it was necessary to drag the river to recover the bodies.

Sheriff Ryder said that crews began dragging the river at 5:20 p. m. and did not recover Poggemeyer's body until four hours later. Juilff's body was recovered in about 20 minutes. The river is from six to 25 feet deep.

Election Of Commander In Spotlight

Nye, Barnes Leading Field Of Candidates For Department Head

OMAHA—(AP)—Delegate interest was focused on the backstage maneuvering for the election of a department commander as the Nebraska state American Legion convention got under way today.

The most prominent candidates in the field were Barlow Nye of Kearney, and Earle P. (Bud) Barnes of Omaha.

Nye, a former Nebraska assistant attorney general, is a veteran of both world wars. In the second World war, Nye served as inspector general of the First division in the European theater.

Barnes, a World war II veteran, served in the China-Burma-India theater under Gov. Val Peterson. He is an insurance man, and is backed in the race by Omaha post No. 1.

The election will take place Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Grand Island was making the most prominent bid for the 1948 convention.

Activity Report.

Department Commander Richard Marvel of Hastings told delegates in his annual report that activities of the last year have kept "Nebraska among the top departments" in the national Legion scene.

Marvel said the Nebraska Legion now has a membership of 75,000, distributed among 341 posts. Eighteen posts were added in the past year.

Marvel disclosed that national recognition was accorded Nebraska for its membership; its regional conference on employment, rehabilitation and child welfare; for sponsoring the national midwest aeronautics conference; its junior recreation activities, and the endowment of $7,000 military science scholarship at the University of Nebraska.

Expand Youth Work.

The executive committee of the Nebraska department of the American Legion Sunday phrased two recommendations for expanded youth activities to be presented to the state convention.

One recommendation will be to raise funds for a memorial service building at the state agricultural college at Lincoln, honoring Legion Boys' Staters, 4-H club members and agricultural students who gave their lives in World war two. The committee recommended that the Legion contribute $10,000 to start the fund. The second recommendation, adopted by the delegates, would extend boys' and girls' state activities to include counties.

John Meyer Will Testify This Week

. . . Hughes Says "Party Arranger" Is Available

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Grover Loening, a former war production board adviser, said today he never encountered any White House pressure to influence the award of $40,000,000 worth of airplane contracts to Henry J. Kaiser and Howard Hughes.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Merrill Meigs, wartime war production board official, said today the board feared Henry J. Kaiser would take his case "to the man in the street" if it failed to give "every consideration" to his plans for an enormous flying boat not yet completed.

But Meigs, who headed the WPB aircraft division, told the senate war investigating committee that he knew of no "political pressure" which forced the letting of a contract to Kaiser and Howard Hughes, millionaire manufacturer, for the ship despite opposition of the aircraft industry and practically every government agency concerned.

The project, proposed in 1942 when submarine sinkings were causing great concern, "sounded good to the man in the street," the witness said.

Brewster Accepted Rides.

As a subcommittee launched a public investigation into the Kaiser-Hughes contract, there were these other developments:

1. Hughes notified the committee that his globe-trotting publicity man, John Meyer, will be available this week for testimony. The committee already has heard in closed sessions Meyer's story of expenditures for entertainment of government officials and others.

2. Sen. Brewster (R-Me.) chairman of the committee, told reporters he had accepted free air transportation from Hughes, Hollywood millionaire who heads the Trans-World Airline, but only for the convenience of Hughes in conferring on the committee's work.

Hughes charged today in an open letter that the Maine senator had made trips on which the ordinary charges would be $1,400.

Calls It "Fantastic."

3. Meigs testified he told Hughes in 1942 that if the Kaiser-conceived plane was not built on time Hughes "would be blamed by the public and politicians."

Meigs, who had described Kaiser's plan for a 200-ton flying boat as "fantastic," said under questioning by Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the subcommittee that WPB officials "knew that Mr. Kaiser was very close to the white house, that he was active in publicity and that he regarded himself as a miracle man."

"We knew that if we didn't give Mr. Kaiser every consideration he might go back to the public and say he had not had the proper review or that there was prejudice," Meigs said.

Sen. Hatch (D-NM) asked:

Nothing Fraudulent.

"Was there anything fraudulent, corrupt or anything wrong with this contract?"

"No, not to my knowledge," Meigs replied.

Ferguson said the original Kaiser-Hughes project, from which Kaiser later withdrew, called for three large flying boats on a non-

Heat Good For Corn Crop But Humans Suffer

The kind of blistering weather which is good for the corn and speeds the wheat harvest continued in Nebraska Monday. It's expected to last at least through tomorrow.

While Husker residents mopped their perspiring brows, temperatures rapidly mounted toward the 100-plus readings of Sunday. High readings for the state Sunday were 101 at Hayes Center and 100 at Scottsbluff and Grand Island.

The heat belt covers most midwest states and was expected to speed bringing in of the bumper small grain crop. Temperatures between 100 and 105 are forecast for Tuesday.

At 9:30 a. m. today Nebraska temperatures included North Platte 81, Chadron 88, Lincoln 86, Grand Isand 84 and Omaha 86. High-low temperature ranges for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. included Hayes Center 101-66, North Platte 97-64, Scottsbluff 100-60 Lincoln 96-72, Grand Island 100-66, Omaha 99-75, and Norfolk 96-71.

Youths Electrocuted As They Swim In Lake

ASHTABULA, O. — (INS) — Electric charges entering Lake Erie from a power line were blamed today for the deaths of two Warren, O., youths while swimming yesterday at Geneva-on-the-Lake, popular resort 9 miles west of Ashtabula.

C. C. Roller, Ashtabula county coroner, said the two victims, Lawrence Rogers, 18, and E. W. Scopocosa, 17, were struck unconscious by the electric current which had charged the water.

Efforts to revive the youths with respirators and adrenalin failed, and the coroner held that their deaths were due to accidental electrocution.

All Sugar Rationing At An End

. . . Price Controls Kept

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The agriculture department announced the end of sugar rationing at 10 a. m. (CST) today because of a lack of funds to finance the program.

The action ends rationing to industrial and institutional users. Rationing to housewives was ended two months ago.

However, price controls are being kept. And controls on the amount of supplies which industrial users may have on hand were instituted.

No Funds To Carry On.

In announcing this action, the department said congress failed to appropriate funds necessary to continue work of the sugar rationing administration.

It said that office is being closed down immediately and all rationing employes are being dismissed today.

The department said all orders suspending sugar rationing to alleged violators of rationing rules are revoked. Likewise, all suspension order proceedings now pending were ordered ended.

New Controls.

Persons under subpoena or notice to appear in such proceedings are now released from making their appearance.

Briefly, the new inventory controls, restricting the amount of sugar industrial users may have on hand, provide:

(1) A general limitation of sugar inventories for any person (other than household users) to a maximum of 2,000 pounds;

(2) A limitation for any industrial or institutional user of 140 per cent of the quantity used during the corresponding and next succeeding month ending June 30, 1947;

(3) A limitation for all wholesalers or retailers to quanities equal to those sold by them during the proceeding calendar month.

No limitation was placed on inventories of primary distributuors, that is refiners, sugar mills and importers.

Exports Of Grain To Be Big

Shortage Areas To Get Half Billion Bushels Next Year

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The agriculture department today allocated 1,197,500 long tons of grain and grain products — the equivalent of about 44,936,000 bushels—for export to shortage areas in September

This compares with 1,364,500 long tons, or about 52,337,860 bushels, allocated for August.

The September allocations included no corn. The department said much of the corn originally allocated for export in July and August has been replaced by wheat and other grains because of a prospective short corn crop in this country.

The government now plans to export upwards of 500,000,000 bushels of grains during the 12 months ending June 30, 1948.

What It Feels Like When Lightning Hits

LANCASTER, O.—(AP)—Roy Huffman, 54, was alive today, able to describe what it felt like to be struck by lightning.

Treated for his injuries at a hospital here, Huffman said he was standing at the door of his cottage on Buckeye lake, 16 miles northwest of Lancaster, when a bolt struck the front porch late Sunday.

"A green flame enveloped me," he said. "It felt as if thousands of red hot needles—and I really mean hot—were sticking me."

The lightning ripped the shoes on his feet to shreds, singed his legs and tore his trousers.

—KANSAS CITY—

Vote Fraud Charges Marked Off

REPUBLICAN LEADER JUDGES ISSUE WILL NOT BE REVIVED AGAIN

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Republican congressional leaders marked off the Kansas City vote fraud charges today as a court matter and something to talk about in the coming political wars.

Although Sen. Kem (R-Mo.) told a reporter he will not reach a decision until later, a republican leader who declined to be quoted by name said it is his judgment that the issue will not be revived when congress meets again in January.

Kem had sought senate approval of a resolution calling for a special investigation of Attorney General Clark's handling of the charges of vote buying and other irregularities which arose as a result of last year's democratic "purge" primary in the fifth Missouri district.

Connally Lashes Out.

Although democrats generally have fought a defensive battle on this political front, Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) arose in the senate shortly before congress adjourned early yesterday to announce that he had taken all the attacks on Clark he could stand. Clark is a Texan, first appointed to the justice department with Connally's backing.

In an unusually vitrolic attack on Ferguson, Connally told his colleagues: "I had no desire to engage in this debate had not the junior senator from Michigan gotten up again and covered the whole case with the vomit of his prejudice and rancor and hatred and hope and ambition."

Republicans Explode.

Implying that Ferguson has the "ambition to run for president, Conally contended he hoped to further it by going to Kansas City to "conduct any kind of an investigation which would thrown any slime or any approbrium or any blame upon the attorney general of the United States or upon his chieftain, the president of the United States."

"When a senator," Connally continued, "gets the ambition to run for president of the United States, no longer is he worth a damn as a senator."

Republicans took this silently, but they exploded into action a few seconds later when the Texan, noting that Ferguson is a lawyer and a former judge, asserted.

"How would you like to be tried in his court when he was a judge, whether you were innocent or whether you were guilty? You had no assurance that you would get a fair trial?"

Sen. Brooks (R-Ill) was on his feet protesting that this was language "beyond the bounds of decency even for a police court."

Connally tried to apoligize, contending that he did not say that. Amid cries from the republican side of "yes you did," Sen. Hawkes (R-NJ) demanded that the words be read back.

When they were, Sen. Vanderberg (R-Mich) presiding, held that Connally had violated the rule by which no senator can say anything derogatory to another senator's character.

Ferguson, who had sat white faced and silent, arose to say that he would not resort to "personal villification" in reply.

"The cause is greater than a personal dispute between senators," he declared.

2,500 Attend Bowl Concert

Pinewood bowl was nearly filled Sunday night when more than 2,500 persons attended the singfest and band concert at Pioneers park.

Presiding at the singfest was Rev. Carl G. Bader. Charles Putney led congregational singing, and Rev. O'Linn McGuire, associate pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, delivered the meditation.

Soloists were Mrs. Gordon Phillips and Don Engle, accompanied respectively by Mrs. Vaughan Yantz and Ray Young. At the municipal band concert, Roger Brendle and Bud Eden sang.

LEGION CONVENTION

Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme court, would permit school students to study at close hand the methods of county government.

The committee also approved charters for new posts at Belwood and Dalton.

The four-day state convention of the Nebraska department, American Legion, is expected to attract 5,000 visitors, Adjutant Matt Jaap of Omaha Legion Post No. 1, said today.

About 500 out-state Legionnaires signed the rolls in the first hour after registration headquarters opened today, he said.

Advance activities included a meeting of the executive committee, a concert at Joslyn Memorial by Omaha post No. 1 band, and memorial services conducted jointly by the Legion and the auxiliary.

The Rev. William P. Conner of Blair spoke at the memorial services. The convention officially opened at 9 a. m. Monday, Jaap said.

Mrs. Bailey's strong interest in education was reflected in her enbership in the Athenia.

She was a member of the First-Plymouth Congregational church and played a prominent part in many of the church's activities.

Mrs. Bailey was also one of the organizers of the Women's Christian association, which later developed into the Y.W.C.A. She retained her interest in the new organization here.

Born Minnie Frank Bryant in Wareham, Mass., of a family having five Mayflower ancestors, she was a graduate of the high school there. She married Dr. Bailey in Feb. 8, 1882.

She was also affiliated with the Mayflower society, Colonial Dames of America, Sons and Daughters of Pilgrims, the University club and the Country club.

She is survived by three nieces, Ruth B. Whitney and Esther B. Sherman, both of Lincoln, and Mrs. C. L. Raser of Babylon, N. Y.; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Edgar A. Bailey of Lincoln and Mrs. Jane Bryant of Nashua, N. H.

City Drop In Pressure Of Water Normal

. . . Heavy Use Reason

Receipt by the water department of a number of complaints Monday morning that water pressure in city mains was too low to supply needed water brought comment from Director D. L. Erickson that there is no cause for alarm.

Erickson called the drop in pressure "normal" for this time of year when there is heavy use of water. Pressure which is normally 65 to 70 lbs. at street level was reduced to between 45 and 50 lbs. Monday.

Fire Chief E. P. Feaster said that he is not concerned over water pressure in the downtown area because although the pressure may drop in the mains, the supply is adequate. The fire department pumpers add their own pressure to water in the hoses.

Pumpage over the hot week end stood at 18,000,000 gallons on Saturday and 17,500,000 on Sunday, Fred Blumer, A-street plant manager, reported. This is much lower than the all-time high last year of 27,000,000 gallons and the high this year of 23,000,000 gallons.

Development Static.

Development of water facilities has necessarily remained static during the war although plans are in preparation for expansion of capacity at Ashland, Erickson stated.

Plans are also in preparation for a series of water towers throughout the city to aid in maintaining uniform water pressure. These tanks will be similar to those now in Havelock, Bethany, and Belmont.

John Kruse, water department manager, revealed that the added drain on water facilities is accounted for by the increased number of users since the war and the addition of a great many air-conditioning systems which use water.

There have been more than 66 air-conditioning systems installed during the past nine years, according to water department records, with a total rated water capacity of 1765 gallons per minute.

And these are only those which have been reported to the department to enable the users to take advantage of a special water rate, Kruse aded.

Lt. Col. Jones Assigned To Washington By Army

Lt. Col. Ervin A. Jones will leave Thursday for Washington where he will be assigned to the judge advocate general's department in the Pentagon building. He has completed his work in the attorney general's office and accepted a permanent commission in the regular army.

Mrs. Jones and their son and daughter will accompany him. They plan to temporarily reside with relatives in the capital while seeking a permanent home.

Veterans Eligible For High School Certificates

Certificates of high school equivalency will be issued to veterans who cannot qualify for a high school diploma, but desire the rights and privileges of such a diploma, Wayne Reed, state superintendent, announced.

Examinations for the certificates will be given at high schools in Alliance, Grand Island, Lincoln, Norfolk, North Platte and Omaha. Applications can be made either at the school last attended or at the school in city of residence.

Paper Wants Attlee To Quit Or Be Ousted

LONDON — (AP)—Declaring that Prime Minister Attlee had failed to cope with the nation's pressing economic problems, the Daily Mirror urged him to resign today and suggested that the rank and file of the labor party force him out if he failed to do so.

The Mirror—a strong supporter of labor—asserted that Attlee had "devised a cabinet system which merely 'passes the buck' to government departments" and complained that "there is no constant central control of the government."

400 Apply For Safety Patrol Jobs

More than 400 applications for jobs with the state safety patrol had been received Monday, Capt. C. J. Sanders announced. Applications will continue to be received until August 6.

All applications will be required to take competitive examinations conducted by the state merit system council. Those ranking highest in the examination will be chosen to attend training camp at the National Guard camp at Ashland in September.

Final acceptance for probationary patrolmen will be made on a competitive basis from grading both in examinations and in field training. Candidates who go through the five weeks' training period will be paid $2.50 per day and board and room. Starting salary for those accepted will be $175 per month.

Only citizens of the United States and residents of Nebraska will be accepted. They must be between the ages of 21 and 35 years and at least 5 feet 10 inches tall. Graduation from high school is a requirement as well as good physical condition.

The increase in the size of the patrol was made possible by action of the last legislature. The legislature also provided a pension system for patrolmen.

Action Deferred On Weiler Application

The zoning board of appeals took no action Monday on reconsideration of the application by Val Weiler for altering of the local business building at 3457 Holdrege.

Called into special session although it had previously denied its approval by unanimous vote because the building does not conform to proper set-backs, the board discussed the matter and then deferred action until such time as all members could be present. Gale Robinson and Chauncey Barney were absent.

Rural Life Conference

preaching of the "world's end" and "Judgment day" it has encouraged exploitation of the soil and created an indifference to long-range, planned conservation, he said.

Discover Relationship.

Basically, Bishop Martin declared, the purpose of the meeting is to "discover the practical relationship of the soil and the soul."

During the conference various problems of rural life will be discussed in eight study committees. Each delegate to the conference will be assigned to one of these committees, which will range in size from 166 to 241 members, for six sessions during the three day meeting. At the close of the conference each committee will report to the group as a whole on the findings and conclusions of its studies.

The eight committees and the chairmen are:

The rural church and the home and family life, Rev. W. Neill Hart, Little Rock, Ark.; the rural church and the community, Dr. David E. Lindstrom, department of rural sociology at the University of Illinois; land policy and church stability," Dr. Arthur E. Raper, bureau of agricultural economics, U. S. department of agriculture; the ministry and the rural church, Dr. A. W. Martin, Perkins School of Thology, Southern Methodist university; co-operation with other churches, Dr. Ralph A. Felton, Drew Theological seminary, Madison, N. J.; national rural church policy, Rev. Jobs program for the local church, Rev. Earl D. C. Brewer, Chandler School of Theology, Emory university, and Dr. J. M. Ormond, Duke university, co-chairmen; and a Christian world view, Dr. C. M Julian, San Francisco, Cal.

Conference Problems.

Among the various problems which will be discussed at the conference are the training and supplying of trained ministers for the rural areas, where the shortage is acute, the abolition of the policy of considering the country church as merely a period of apprenticeship before assignment to an urban church, flood control and the feeding of the world.

Rev. James A. W. Sells, secretary of the committee on program and arrangements, said that the housing of delegates still posed a problem as more were arriving than had been anticipated.

The meeting will officially open Tuesday morning with a statement by Bishop Martin and an address of welcome by Dr. G. W. Rosenloff of the University of Nebraska, Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Tex., will be the first speaker.

Rooneys Reconcile Their Differences

HOLLYWOOD — (INS)—Film Actor Mickey Rooney and his wife, the former Betty Jane Rase, Birmingham, Ala., have reconciled their differences.

At the time of their separation, Rooney gave his wife $15,000 a year for their children's support and a house in Birmingham where her parents live.

Mrs. Rooney had filed a divorce suit.

Joe Redmon Case Continued To Aug. 20

SEWARD—Preliminary hearing on the statutory rape charge filed against Joe Redmon in Seward county court was continued Monday by County Judge P. H. Wiegardt until Aug. 20.

The preliminary hearing had been scheduled for today.

Redmon pleaded innocent a week ago to the statutory rape of a 15-year-old Seward girl and was released under $5,000 bond pending hearing. The former filling station operator appeared this morning with his lawyer, Carl Sanden.

Redmon is also under $5,000 bond in Lancaster county pending hearing before the Lancaster District court on a sodomy charge.

Ex-Navy Men May Now Enlist In Old Ratings

The local navy recruiting station announced Monday that former navy enlisted personnel who have been discharged from the navy since Aug. 15, 1945, may now re-enlist in their old ratings.

The new enlistment policy has opened 25 rating groups in aviation, administrative, radio, fire control and engineering which will be closed after Oct. 31, 1947.

profit basis to cost not more than $18,000,000.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) wanted to know why the first Hughes flying boat was built at Culver City, Calif., 27 miles from the ocean.

"Wasn't that a fantastic idea?" he asked.

"I'd double that—it's doubly fantastic," Meigs said.

He Wasn't Entertained.

McCarthy asked whether Hughes has sought $1,500,000 in government funds to move the craft to the water.

"I have no knowledge of that beyond what I have read in the newspapers," Meigs said.

Meigs testified that Secretary of the Treasury Snyder "screamed" about the contract, but that he had nothing to say about its award.

At the time, Snyder was in the Defense Plants Corp., which made the actual contract, and "it was through him that he had to get the money."

WPB chief Donald Nelson "was, under the commander-in-chief, the final authority," he said.

Ferguson asked Meigs whether he knows Meyer.

"It seems to me I missed all that. I was not entertained," he replied.

Meyer had been reported out of the country, and the subcommittee previously had been making efforts to bind him to issue a summons.

At a closed preliminary inquiry June 3, Meyer laid before the subcommittee various purported expense accounts of parties at which he said high government officials were entertained.

The subcommittee has been inquiring into negotiations which led to award of the plane contracts. Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the subcommittee said as he opened the hearing today that neither of the planes Hughes developed has been accepted by the government.

In Los Angeles, Hughes today in an open letter accused Sen. Brewster of conducting a "publicity spree."

"And, incidentally," Hughes said, "since you think it is so horrible for anyone to accept my hospitality, why don't you tell about the $1,400 worth of airplane trips which you requested and accepted from me? x x x you didn't pay anything for them, did you?"

Brewster, shown an account of the Hughes open letter, conceded to reporters that he had accepted the air transportation from Hughes but said it was only to accommodate Hughes' desire for a conference in Washington on the pending probe. Brewster said that he interrupted a midwest speaking tour to make a fast trip to Washington to talk with Hughes.

"If I had known that I'd be asked to pay $1,400, I'd have hesitated to make the trip," Brewster declared. "I'd have told Mr. Hughes that he would have to wait uptil I got back to Washington.

Mrs. O. R. Raasch, Prairie Home Settler, Dies

An early Nebraska pioneer, Mrs. O. Rena Raasch, 87, of Prairie Home, died there at 6 a. m. Monday. She had been in ill health for the past three years.

Coming to Nebraska at the age of nine months with her parents, Mrs. Raasch lived northeast of Hooper where her father and mother homesteaded. The parents had traveled west on Military road, one of the stopovers for early pioneers.

On May 20, 1884, Mrs. Raasch was married to Casper F. Raasch, who died three years ago. The couple had lived at Prairie Home since 1922. Mrs. Raasch was a member of Christian Science church.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Addie McLaughlin of Prairie Home, and Mrs. Georgia M. Allen of North Platte; one son, Earl J. Raasch, Syracuse, N. Y.; a sister, Mrs. Nettie Munsil of Farnam; nine grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Rows Lead To $100 Total Fines

Three Lincoln men were fined a total of $100 and costs in Municipal court Monday on state complaints arising from alleged altercations Saturday night at Capitol Beach.

Melvin Way, 22, 2137 North Thirtieth street, and Bernard Baterman, 24, 646 North Twenty-second, were both fined $25 and costs for disturbing the peace, and Robert McCormick, 23, 2256 S, was fined $50 and costs for resisting an officer.

According to H. L. Berger, special deputy sheriff, Baterman was involved in a fight at Kings ballroom. Special Deputy Sheriff George Dietz was summoned to hold Baterman in custody until transportation to police headquarters could be secured.

Dietz stated that McCormick attempted to strike him on two different occasions when he refused to release Baterman.

The officers testified that Way was involved in a fight at the beer garden and became very "unruly and mean" when apprehended.

Inmate Seeks Parole Hearing

Penitentiary inmate Frank Mantell filed a petition in District court Monday for a mandamus to compel the board of paroles to give him a hearing on his request for a parole.

Mantell's petition states he has written 30 letters to Richard C. Meissner, state probation officer, and has received 30 answers "all irrelevant as to the issues involved."

A request for a parole was filed two and a half years ago, according to Mantell. He has served 40 months of a seven-year sentence on a charge of car stealing, he claims. He was sentenced in March 4, 1944, after his arrest in Omaha.

Charles Gallager Dies

Charles Gallager, 73, of 2011 K street, died at his home Monday morning. He had previously been employed as a barber.

He is survived by a sister and brother.

Magic Show Presented For Cambridge Relief

A magic show, the proceeds of which will be used for Cambridge relief, was held Friday night by the Youth Fellowship at the community house of the Warren Methodist church.

Youths who took part were: Howard Brooks, Dick Conard, Joyce Bare, Roy Maragian, Louise Conard, and James Bare.

The group collected $14.37 which will be sent to the badly-damaged Methodist church at Cambridge.

Low Bids Submitted

Theisen Bros. and Booth & Olson, Inc., were announced by the highway department Monday as low bidders on improvement of the Tekamah-Oakland highway in Burt county. Bid was $110,220.

The improvement consists of 4.8 miles of grading, .04 miles of paving and culverts.

International Flavor Today

WE'RE TOSSING OFF SPAIN, GREECE, Sweden, Vienna, Norway and France today as glibly as though they were just on the other side of Nebraska—Oh, yes—there's London, too — and a Thursday visitor who is just return from there—

The international scene today is set by numerous guests in the city — There is Mrs. Edward Nathan, for instance, wife of a long time diplomat, now retired. Although Mrs. Nathan came from Monterrey, Mexico, where Mr. Nathan was consul for a period of years, the Nathans have lived in Spain, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Cuba—in fact they have lived in many of the interesting places in the world during the time Mr. Nathan was in diplomatic service for the United States.

Mrs. Nathan arrived several days ago to spend some time with her mother, Mrs. D. Nefsky, and plans to return to Monterrey soon.

• • •

DURING HER STAY Mrs. Nathan has been entertained at numerous informal courtesies—She was honored at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Folsom one night last week, and on Thursday she is to be the honoree at a luncheon for which Mrs. Harry Everett will be hostess when she entertains twelve guests at her home.

• • •

AND ARRIVING A FEW DAYS AGO were Mrs. Flora E. Douglas and her twin sister, Mrs. M. A. Romey who are the house guests of Mrs. Douglas' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas. Not too long ago Mrs. Romney resided in Vienna, and Mrs. Romey also has lived (prior to the war) in France, and other continnental countries ,and Norway.

Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Romey will be joined in Lincoln on Thursday by Dr. Lydia Sicher, notde psychiatrist, who has been spending the past few months teaching and lecturing at the University of London. It was through Mrs. Romney, whom she knew in Vienna, that Dr. Sicher came to America. Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Romney and Dr. Sicher will return to their home in Westwood Village, Los Angeles, Cal., shortly after Dr. Sicher's arrival.

• • •

AS A COURTESY TO MRS. DOUGLAS AND MRS. ROMNEY, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Led- and Mrs. Ledwith's mother, Mrs. E. M. Painter, were dinner host and hostesses on Sunday evening at their home.

TAKING OFF FOR NEW YORK last night—correction—early this morning—was Mrs. Donald Miller, who goes from New York to Sweden, also by plane.

• • •

RETURNING BRIEFLY TO LINCOLN following their marriage in Council Bluffs Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Hardy who leave again on Tuesday for California.

• • •

SPEAKING OF PEOPLE who have left or are leaving—Young Jim Seacrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Seacrest, left Saturday for Camp A.-Gon-Quain, Michigan, where he will spend several weeks.

• • •

AND THE LAMPSHIRES—DR. AND MRS. EARL, and Dr. Lampshire's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lampshire, and his sister, Virginia, are leaving Tuesday evening for Boston, Mass., where Dr. Lampshire will serve on the executive council of the American Society of Children's dentistry when the society hold a meeting just prior to the conference of the National Delta association. Dr. Lampshire appears on the program as a clinician on pedodontics.

During the Boston meeting, Mr. Lampshire's parents and his sister will visit in Waterbury, Conn., and will join Dr. and Mrs. Lampshire after the convention for a tour of the New England states and Canada, and the south Atlantic states.

• • •

IN SPITE OF ALL OF THE TOURING about there seems to be enough of the population left at home to entertain for popular brides-to-be—Miss Hinds, is beginning another lap on her round of prenuptial courtesies—

Tomorrow (Tuesday) Miss Hinds will be the honored guest when Mrs. Clarence Swason is a luncheon hostess at her home. Twelve guests have been invited for the luncheon and an informal afternoon, and the bride-elect will be presented with a hostess gift.

• • •

FOR WEDNESDAY EVENING Miss Barbara Polite and Miss Audrey Wallace have planned a picnic supper, and a picnic accessories shower, complimenting Miss Hinds, in the garden at the home of Miss Polite. The twelve guests will spend the after supper hours informally.

PARTIES ARE BEGINNING THIS week for Miss Joan Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson, whose engagement to Glen Yetter was announced recently—

Miss Wilson, for instance, is the incentive for the mother-daughter dinner on Thursday evening when Mrs. George Salladin entertains at the Lincoln Country club. An informal evening will follow the dinner and Miss Wilson will be presented with a bathroom shower.

• • •

TWO PARTIES FOR MISS WILSON are on the Sunday calendar— The first one is the 12 o'clock brunch at the Lincoln Country club when the hostesses will be Miss Barbara Polite, Miss Ruth Ellen Moll, Miss Jane McArthur and Miss Patricia Burnett. Twenty guests have been invited for the brunch and a kitchen shower for the bride-to-be.

• • •

AND ON SUNDAY EVENING Miss Wilson and her fiance will share honors when Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson entertain the members of the families at a dessert supper at their home.

• • •

WHEN MRS. J. E. BLACKMAN entertains at luncheon on Wednesday at the University club she will have as her guests the members of a birthday club who are honoring the anniversary of Mrs. Harvey Swenson. Places will be arranged for 12, and the after luncheon hours will be spent at the club with bridge.

WEDDING OF SHIRLEY ANN PETERSON, AUBREY PETTIT, SOLEMNIZED

MR. AND MRS. AUBREY PETTIT

PEDESTAL baskets filled with white and pastel toned summer blossoms, including peonies, hydrangeas, lilies and daisies, and greenery, formed the background for the marriage of Miss Shirley Ann Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Peterson of Nebraska City, to Aubrey Pettit, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Pettit of Lincoln, which was an event of Thursday evening, June 26, at the First Presbyterian church in Nebraska City. Thomas E. Dunbar played a prelude of organ music, including "Elsa's Dream," from Lohengrin; Walther's Prize Song, from "Die Meistersinger." Mr. Dunbar also accompanied J. Dayton Smith who sang, "My Lady Walks in Lovliness," and "E'en as a Lovely Flower." The bridal music from Lohengrin was used as a processional, and the Mendelssohn march as a recessional.

Miss Betty Jean Peterson, wearing powder blue sheer crepe and Victorian lace, was her sister's maid of honor. Her frock was fashioned with a squared neckline in a fitted bodice, and shirred cap sleeves, their length replaced with long, white gloves. The long skirt had soft fullness. The bridesmaids, Miss Shirley Stocker and Miss Patricia Warren, wore alike frocks of powder blue chiffon. The bodices, designed with a batteau neckline, were completed with triple puffs of chiffon forming a bustle in the back, and had brief cap sleeves. Miss Stocker completed her costume with long pink gloves, with tiara in matching tone, and Miss Warren wore lemon yellow gloves, the shade reflected in her tiara headdress.

Clayton Hughes of Lincoln served Mr. Pettit as best man, and the ushers were Kermit Hammar, Jack Hoenig, Lloyd Jeffrey, and Don Bettenhausen.

The bride's gown of pearl-toned slipper satin had a portrait neckline in a fitted bodice. The long sleeves, slightly fulled at the shoulders, tapered to points over the wrists. The gored skirt, ornamented at the waistline in front with a sunburst of unpressed pleats, had a detachable train caught snugly at the waist with a narrow band, and upon which the unpressed pleats motif was repeated. The veil was fingertip length and was held to the head with a tiara of the satin trimmed with clusters of seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet of white roses was centered with orchids, and her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the serving table was arranged with white tapers in crystal holders, white blossoms, and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Morton Porter, Miss Ruth Carol Vigen, Miss Joan Witt, and Miss Bobbe DeJarnette.

Mr. Pettit and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado, after which they returned to Bloomfield, to reside.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pettit were graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where the bride is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and the bridegroom of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Early May Wedding For Dona Holloway, John Dell, Jr.

MR. AND MRS. J. B. HOLLOWAY announce the marriage of their daughter, Dona, to John Dell, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dell, which was solemnized at a 5 o'clock ceremony, Sunday, May 4, at Zion Congregational church. The Rev. G. J. Schmidt read the lines of the service in the presence of the members of the families and a small group of friends.

For her wedding, the bride chose a softly tailored suit of wool in the palomino shade with a matching hat trimmed with a brief veil. Her accessories were navy blue, and she carried a white prayer book marked with a cluster of lavender orchids.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Darlene Holloway, and Miss Barbara Holloway, also sister of the bride, lighted the tapers. The best man was Ferdinand Dell, brother of the bridegroom, and seating the guests were Carl Wunder and Phil Kehling.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's parents, after which the couple left for a short wedding trip. They will reside in Lincoln.

Mr. Dell served with the USMC two years, including fifteen months overseas duty in the south Pacific theater.

MISS JACQUELINE BROWN BRIDE OF NED W. NEVIN

IN THE presence of a small group of friends and members of the immediate families, Miss Jacqueline Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Brown, became the bride of Ned W. Nevin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Nevin, at a 7 o'clock ceremony, Saturday evening, July 12, at Bethany Christian church. Before an altar arranged with garden flowers and greenery, the Rev. Paul Becker read the lines of the service.

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant was Miss Betty Ward of North Platte, who wore an afternoon frock of pastel pink chambray. Her accessories were white, and she wore a small hat of white starched lace with matching mitts. Her corsage was of pink roses. Pierce Crawford served Mr. Nevin as best man.

For her wedding, the bride chose a softly tailored suit of white crepe. The fitted jacket was designed with a short, flared peplum, and she wore a hat of white straw trimmed with narrow satin ribbon. Her shoulder corsage was of deep red roses.

A reception for sixty guests was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Tall white tapers, and a tiered wedding cake encircled with blue forget-me-nots and pink roses, appointed the bridal table, at which Mrs. Clarence Hester, Mrs. Reese Stake and Mrs. John Wood presided. Miss Marian Sanden was in charge of the guest book, and presiding in the gift room were Miss Barbara Wood and Miss Shirley Money.

The couple left for a wedding trip to the Elms hotel, Excelsior Springs, Mo., after which they will reside in Lincoln. Mr. Nevin has attended Nebraska Wesleyan university.

JANE ELIZABETH IRWIN BRIDE OF RAYMOND DENNIS

WHITE GLADIOLI and calla lilies, and cathedral candles burning in branched candelabra, appointed the altar of Holy Trinity church, Episcopal, for the marriage of Miss Jane Elizabeth Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gaylord Irwin, to Raymond D. Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Dennis of Grand Island, which was solemnized at 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, June 28. In the presence of one hundred guests, the Rev. Harold C. Gosnell read the lines of the ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Dorsey Baird, organist.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Batten, who wore a two piece frock of pearl gray chambray with matching accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. H. W. Dennis of Grand Island, was best man, and seating the guests were Robert Batten and L. L. Smith.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a softly tailored suit of gabardine in the honey tone. She wore a small matching hat and her accessories were brown and white. A spray of brown orchids completed her costume, and she carried a white prayer book, a gift of her parents, and an heirloom handkerchief of lace.

Blue larkspur and pink rambler roses ornamented the bridal table for the reception, which was held in the parlors of the church.

Following a short wedding trip by plane, the couple will make their home in Indianapolis, Ind., where Mr. Dennis is employed as an electrical engineer.

$10,000 Donation Added To Jackson Memorial Fund

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A $10,000 gift has been added to the fund for construction of a William H. Jackson wing at the Scottsbluff national monument, Scottsbluff, Neb.

The national park service said the $10,000 came from the American Pioneer Trails association, but most of it was donated by Julius Stone, Towanda, N. Y., and Devils Lake, Mich., manufacturer, who was a friend of Jackson. Stone died Friday at Santa Monica, Cal.

The wing will honor Jackson, a pioneer photographer of the western national parks, who died at New York City in 1942 at the age of 99. Construction will begin late in the summer.

A. E. Demaray, associate director of national parks, said the association augmented Stone's gift through popular subscription in Nebraska.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

BY WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Serv.)

Word that Tom Dewey has been adopted by the Sioux Indians was cooly received at democratic headquarters . . they seem willing to let the Indians have him.

KIERNAN

Of course the Sioux couldn't hail Tom as "The Great White Father" . . . that's reserved for the president. Tom is more the expectant father type.

But in the future, wherever Sioux Indians gather, the governor will be known as "Brave Heart." Wherever democrats gather they will have a different name for him.

Mr. Truman still is available for adoption by some good tribe. . . . The Tammany tribe has the first refusal.

But I hear that Tom won't stir out the house now without a bow and arrow . . . he's as bad as Wallace and the boomerang.

There is news, by the way, that the Wallace boom which began in Fresno has arrived in Los Angeles, tired and dusty.

Dear Susan Brown

By Caroline Hall

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 26.

Howard Cranston was still obnoxious, but in a less obvious manner. He was just as determined as ever to manhandle John Bates' precious camera equipment. He seemed bent and determined upon finding out what made the thing click at the proper time, even if he had to tear it apart in the process.

John Bates took all of this with commendable patience, and Susan took her behavior cue from him. If John could take this—well, she could take anything.

Cranston had recovered his voice, to some extent. The only thing that spared the others from his incessant chatter was the fact that he was trying to save it.

"We'll be leaving here in a couple of days," he croaked, pointing out that the house party was almost over. "I'm getting a new selling job, one I've been angling for for years. So I've got to save myself. See?"

"What is your new job, Mr. Cranston?" Mrs. Tremont, always gracious and considerate of others, felt that someone should make at least a show of interest. "You're not giving up salesmanship, are you?"

"Jeepers—no!" boomed Cranston, forgetting his resolution to save his voice for more profitable matters. "It's just htat I'm signing up with the Bye-Lo Company. Biggest manufacturers of baby carriages in the country."

"I thought you were already selling baby carriages," Anne Peyton spoke up. "To bachelors," she added, recalling Howard Cranston's absurd boasts.

Cranston laughed uproariously. "Oh, that was just one of my pet jokes," he said, when he could speak. "Too bad I can't tell you ladies the rest of it. Me—I've been selling insurance. I'm just changing my pob. By the end of the year I aim to have a Bye-Lo go-cart in every home in America. How's that for a slogan?"

"That's fine—er—just fine," Anne returned weakly.

"Think you'll be in the market for a Bye-Lo by the end of the year, Mrs. Peyton? If you are, just get in touch with yours truly," Cranston went on, oblivious to the shocked faces of the listeners.

Anne Peyton turned away in disqust, her small, heart-shaped face crimson. It was clear from the set of her red lips that Howard J. Cranston would have to do some tall talking indeed if he ever placed a Bye-Lo in the Peyton home. In fact, she said as much to Susan, who was standing nearby.

The young Peytons were no problem to the cameraman. They were delightfully photogenic and seemed to have overcome their distaste for being photographed. No special posing was required. They had only to look at each other, and romantic pictures were born. As John Bates expressed it, they were the perfect answer to a cameraman's prayer.

"You know," Anne confided to Susan, as John readjusted his camera for another shot, "George and I feel a little ashamed of ourselves for the way we've been acting. It was pretty mean of us to hide out while pictures were being taken, but—well, we were sort of embarrassed to have our friends back in Springfield know we were here."

"But why?" Susan wanted to know. "Never mind," she added before Anne could speak. "I know. You'd been married only two weeks and the contest was for people who'd had marital problems—and you didn't have a problem at all. It's all right, Anne. We've loved having you here.

"But we did so—have a problem, I mean. We wanted a real honeymoon, and I knew George couldn't afford it."

Susan nodded understandingly. "I know. But it was too bad you and George didn't get together on your stories. I'm not cross with you, of course, but you really shouldn't have put us on the spot like that. If the readers found out, it would be just too bad for America Loves."

Anne was genuinely distressed. "Oh, I know I did wrong, and I'm terribly sorry. George was pretty sore when he found out what I'd written in that letter. He said it was downright dishonest—and it was. I suppose we'd have had a real problem then, if he hadn't loved me so much."

Susan caught her arm and squeezed it reassuringly. "Suppose we just forget it, dear. You and George are the nicest people here, and I'm not a bit angry."

Anne smiled her gratitude. "Thanks—a lot."

Bella and Frank Gaines, in spite of their earnest efforts to be helpful, still constituted a problem for the photographer. They did their best to follow John Bates' instructions as to posing, and it wasn't their fault that their best wasn't good enough. It was a matter of physical disparity rather than a lack of cooperation on their part.

Except for the fact that both were reasonably young, they might have been mother and son instead of husband and wife. It was indeed a tribute to John Bates' skill as a photographer that the pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaines which appeared later in America Loves were of a decidedly handsome, divinely happy young married couple.

Finally John declared himself satisfied and the guests, accompanied by Mrs. Tremont, trooped back into the house. Steve Gellis sat down on the grass beside Susan while John wiped off the lens of his camera with a soft cloth which he pulled out of his pocket.

"Good work, John," Steve said. "I think you got some pretty good shots this time. I guess that winds up the job. You'll be leaving us now, I take it."

John pursed his lips and continued to polish the lens of his camera. "I may stick around for a few days, Steve, if it's just the same to you. There are still a couple of loose ends dangling. I'd like to make sure these negatives are all right, so you'll have a good display in the magazine."

"Sure thing, Bates," Steve nodded. "Glad to have you, aren't we, Susie?" he added, including her in the conversation. "But I wouldn't want to hold you up. Matter of fact, I doubt if we'll be using many of those pictures. We won't have too much space. I haven't decided yet, but I may be changing the entire policy."

Experience is the Best Teacher!

Remember all the different brands you smoked during the wartime cigarette shortage? That's when so many people discovered the milder, more flavorful pleasure there is in Camel's choice, properly aged tobaccos.

It was no fun!

But that wartime cigarette scarcity was a revealing experience to smokers . . . taught millions that cigarettes of different brands are not alike . . . that there are big differences in taste, coolness, mildness . . . in quality.

What Brand?

In those days of the wartime shortage, you took whatever brand you could get . . . a different brand every day sometimes. Naturally, people compared brands . . . for taste . . . for throat . . . for real smoking pleasure.

Even people who had never thought of changing brands tried Camels during the shortage. That's how more and more smokers learned that Camels suited them best. That's why . . .

Rushville Ranch Pair Murdered

Couple Found Beaten To Death; No Motive For Slaying Found

RUSHVILLE, Neb. — (AP) — J. W. Stollar, 60-year-old sandhills rancher, and his 58-year-old wife were found beaten to death at their ranch home 30 miles southeast of here late Saturday, in a slaying for which county authorities have not yet found a motive.

"We have not reached a conclusion as to how or when they were killed," Sheridan County Attorney Lloyd Jordan said.

Sheriff F. L. Green said he hoped an autopsy would disclose the nature of the weapon which killed the pair, last seen Tuesday.

Woman's Body In House.

Mrs. Stollar's body was found in the house and Stollar's was found under a pile of debris in a nearby shed. Their car was missing. Green said they may have been dead since Thursday.

Green said both Mr. and Mrs. Stollar had been beaten about the head.

He said Mrs. Stollar's body was found by the couple's son-in-law, G. E. Thompson of Alliance, who went to the farm home about 10 p. m. He went to a neighbor's home several miles away to reach a telephone, and called the sheriff.

Stollar's body, covered with boxes and debris in a nearby shed, was discovered by officers sometime later, Green said.

Mr. and Mrs. Stollar were last seen Tuesday when they took their hired man to Rushville and left him there. At this time Mrs Stollar also called her daughter.

The hired man, whose name was not immediately learned, told officers the last time he had seen his employers was Tuesday when they left him in town.

Inquest Planned.

County Attorney Jordan said an autopsy was planned and also an inquest, but neither had been definitely scheduled.

The slaying took place in Pine Creek precinct, where 17 years ago three members of a family were slain and an infant badly beaten.

Nebraska News

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The low pressure area over the northern Rocky mountain states, together with the weak high pressure area over the Gulf states, is causing a northward flow of warm air from Texas to the northern portions of the Rocky Mountain and Great Plains states, resulting in unusually warm weather over these regions. Highest temperatures yesterday were 100° or slightly higher over much of central and eastern Montana, locally in Nebraska, Missouri, and Arkansas, and over most of western Kansas. Moderate to heavy rains have fallen over a belt extending from the Ohio Valley and Tennessee northeastward over the New England states, and also over Florida and adjacent areas. A strong high pressure area off the Oregon coast has caused heavy rains in southwestern Oregon, and light to moderate rains over Washington and the remainder of Oregon, together with rather cool weather for this season of year.

Jaycees Adopt Program Bring Industry To State

COLUMBUS, Neb. — (AP) —A program designed to help bring more industries to Nebraska has been adopted here by state directors and officers of the Nebraska junior chamber of commerce.

The program was outlined yesterday, at the end of the two-day quarterly Nebraska Jaycee conference, by Don F. Pollack and Bernard Beeson of Fremont. The three points of the program:

1. Obtain adequate legislative appropriations to publicize Nebraska; 2. Sell Nebraskans to Nebraskans; 3. To send 60 delegates to the national Jaycee convention in Philadelphia next year to act as "ambassadors of Nebraska."

In stressing the need for such a program, Beeson and Pollack pointed out that during the 1930's Nebraska lost 65,000 young men and in recent years the state has been losing four per cent of her population yearly. They asked that the October quarterly conference of the state junior chamber in Omaha adopt the keynote of "On To Philadelphia" to stir up interest in sending the large delegation to the 1948 convention.

Conference highlights included a Sunday banquet address on Russia by Lyle Gill, Fremont attorney and World war II naval intelligance officer; a lecture to visiting wives by Terence Duren, Nebraska artist; a banquet and dance Saturday evening. In all 106 Jaycees and their wives from 15 Nebraska towns attended.

EDGAR—John Marion Wallen, 72, died at his home in south Edgar, July 20. He had lived in this community since 1916. Surviving are two brothers.

Federal Funds Are Sought For Eleven Airports

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Action is expected early next month on a final priority list asking federal aid for 11 Nebraska airport projects, Rep. Stefan (R-Neb) announced.

Stefan said following a conference with H. A. Hook, civil aeronautics administration assistant administrator for airports, that he had been informed that the Nebraska aeronautics commission has revised its priority ratings chart to comply with a CAA request that all classes of airports be considered.

"Mr. Hook felt that since his organization was combining its 1947 money, originally earmarked for the smaller communities, with 1948 appropriations, all state advisory groups should review their priority lists," he added.

Nineteen airports of Class three or smaller, were given tentative allocations last month and funds for seven other small fields withheld, pending a merger of the administration's 1947-48 appropriations.

11 Request Funds.

Stefan said he understood the new priority sheet and each community's federal airport aid request included: Omaha $400,000; Hastings, $86,750; Lexington, $13,114; Sidney, $26,798; North Platte, $49,000; Humboldt, $17,778; Wilber, $10,862; Norfolk, $25,000; Scribner, $10,000; David City, $19,500 and Columbus, $1,750, in that order. Fields at Omaha, North Platte, Norfolk and Scribner are in the class four bracket.

"I was told that the Nebraska commission asked CAA that in the event no 'discretionary funds' are made available to the Cornhusker state, the Omaha project be reduced to $300,000 in order that the entire program be built with 'visible funds,'" Stefan explained.

"Discretionary funds are those made available to the administrator of CAA to pay on allowable project costs of all airports in the country—those which the administrator may deem most appropriate for carrying out the national airport plan."

"Mr. Hook seemed quite confident Nebraska would receive a share of the discretionary funds," he concluded.

Civil Functions Bill Awaits Truman's Name

Makes $9 Million Available Work On Harlan County Dam

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Only President Truman's signature was needed today to assure the availability of $9,000,000 for work on the Harlan county, Nebraska, reservoir during the fiscal year ending June 30.

The senate passed the compromise $502,123,912 civil functions appropriations bill for non-military war department expenditures just before adjournment.

In addition to the appropriation (classed as flood control) for the Harlan county reservoir, the measure appropriated $75,000 for flood control work at Indianola, Neb., $1,500,000 for flood control work at Omaha and $500,000 for revetment work in Nebraska.

The amounts were the same as those recommended by senate-house conferees.

1,200 Corporations Failed To File

The secretary of state's office reports that 1,200 corporations have failed to file for the new year and will be subject to a 15 per cent penalty if it is not completed before July 31. There are a total of 3,250 corporations in the state required to file.

2 Power Districts Show Profit In '46

The state auditor's office has completed audits on two more rural public power districts for the year 1946. Both showed profits.

Seward county district showed a net income of $5,551. Operating revenue of $48,823, less expenses, left a net operating revenue of $9,429. Remaining long term obligations of the company held by the Rural Electrification administration total $361,069. The district has paid back to the REA $12,731.

The Burt county district at Tekamah had a net income of $23,971. Operating revenue was $136,341 and operating profit $35,-440. The district still owes REA $866,630 and has paid back $64,-439.

Wood; second watch, Walter Pratt; third watch, Alex Dumstine; fourth watch, H. E. Metcalf, and guard of the tent, Beyrl Harlan. L. R. Fitch scribe, and H. D. White, treasurer, retained their offices.

It was announced that the grand encampment session will be held in Lincoln Oct. 14.

106 At Burbank

NEW YORK — (AP) — New Yorkers and Californians were in close agreement on one point yesterday: The beach was the place to go to escape temperatures that ranged up to a humid 86 here and 106 at Burbank, north of Hollywood.

The highest point in Arizona is Humphreys peak, an extinct volcano in the San Francisco mountains in the northern part of the state, which rises to a height of 12,611 feet.

Construction Of Enders Dam Is 25 Pct. Finished

ENDERS, Neb. —(AP)— Despite delays occasioned by four months of wet weather, construction of the $4,000,000 Enders Dam is 20 per cent complete, contractors have estimated.

Contractors still hope to complete the job by the end of 1948 or the beginning of 1949.

With 166 workers on the payroll, the project camp has become virtually a small village with its own power plant, sewage disposal system, cafeteria, repair shops, warehouses and 25 barracks. The place has been named Camp Phelps, after Manager George E Phelps.

Is It Friends Parting?

If nothing more, Senator Hugh Butler's announcement that he was considering an invitation to be Nebraska's "favorite son" at the next republican national convention got a rise out of Mr. Butler's senatorial colleague, Senator Kenneth Wherry.

Senator Wherry wants nothing of it.

Without any direct reference to Senator Butler beyond saying Mr. Butler had not discussed the matter with him, Senator Wherry, who had the endorsement of Nebraska republicans last summer for the "favorite son role," disclaimed any interest and indicated he would not even be a delegate to the republican national convention. So what does that add up to? Nothing in particular? It's just one of those little family differences to be adjusted by a few pats on the cheek, and in the end the differences dissolve in the urge for party harmony. Senior and junior will get this straightened out to their own satisfaction, which after all, is all that matters.

They will get it untangled if there is no outside meddling. Along comes a Kearney man and he insists Senator Wherry should be "it." That is serious. In generous spirit will Senator Butler step down?

Wrong In The Head

That a young man who deliberately embarks on a career of crime is wrong in the head is so frequently demonstrated as to be practically undeniable. On July 8, a Nebraska reformatory inmate with but a few weeks left to serve, ran away, and one week later he was arrested in Colorado on a charge of burglary. It was for a like crime that he had been convicted in this state. He is to be tried in Colorado and upon conviction will be required to serve years in a penitentiary instead of weeks in a reformatory. A person of intelligence would have known this and conducted himself accordingly. However, these boys who endeavor to make crime pay, have flaws in their mental machinery, and though they are incapable of straight thinking, they know the difference between right and wrong and spend a good portion of their lives behind prison bars.

What's Cookin'?

In the pictures Monday was one of great significance—a view of a crew of a B-29 Super Fortress lined up against a 42,000 pound bomb—a bomb which in itself could have been mistaken by the casual reader for an airplane.

Ranged alongside it, the eight-man crew was dwarfed.

It was in the closing days of World war II that the 10-ton "blockbuster" made its appearance in the air raids upon Germany and Japan to hasten defeat immeasurably. And here it is a little more than two years away in the case of Germany, and the "blockbuster," a giant of its times, has grown into a colossus.

The 10-ton bomb is now a 21-ton bomb.

In genuine sorrow, millions of Americans will note that over in Moscow a mere handful of men seem to have forgotten that the defeat of Germany came about solely and simply to destroy the spirit of aggression in the world. This business of a nation possessing a seventh of the world's land surface, the resources of which are said to be largely undeveloped, seeking to set up "friendly" governments in adjoining lands, must stop. The day is approaching (many feel it is already here) when Stalin himself will have to be told that, face to face and across the table. The arrival of the 21-ton bomb, to say nothing of atomic energy, makes aggression by any nation upon any pretense or excuse unacceptable in today's world.

An Army Of 8,946

This bulletin came to a Nebraska law enforcement officer from the United States Department of Justice, under the signature of FBI's J. Edgar Hoover:

"There are presently 8,946 parole violators on whom wanted notices are posted . . . not included are probation violators of whom there are a substantial number. This means that an army of nearly 9,000 criminals has been released upon an unsuspecting public. Violation of parole is a tacit acknowledgement that the criminal does not intend to abide by the rules of organized society. It follows that society is the victim. To the individual law enforcement officer there is nothing more disappointing, after apprehending a confirmed criminal in a search involving hard and dangerous work, than to see the prison doors swing open before even a minor portion of that convict's sentence has been served . . . Freedom for the confirmed lawbreaker through mal-administration of parole makes a mockery of law enforcement. As a sincere advocate of parole but a resolute opponent of abuse in its administration, I believe its value in our penal system must be measured by its effect on society."

That has been the word carried in this column for days in the discussion of crime and its increase, including sex crimes.

When will we cease being silly?

When will we talk more about the protection of society, and less about curing these misguided individuals, who never had a chance?

When will we see that the law is enforced in all of its harshness, along with sterner penalties where sterner penalties are needed?

When will we revise the practice of bail bonds, so that bonds when given not only insure the presence of the accused at a trial, but in the individual cases insure the safety of society? Isn't that one reason why those accused of murder or treason are not open to bail bond? Aren't they too dangerous to be at large? What about these men who keep coming before judges repeatedly on sex charges? In fixing bail bonds, isn't the matter of their danger to society a consideration after the first charge has been lodged against them? And they reappear on a second, a third or a fourth?

In the tightening of the law, that tightening should begin at the beginning and run through to the end.

Scorched Earth

From the fabled East Indies the cables said that Indonesian soldiers were prepared to shoot the works in their fight for independence by applying the policy of scorched earth to those fabulously valuable plantations of the Dutch. The threat was to apply the torch to 500 rubber, quinine, coffee and tea plantations. Americans, thousands of miles away, will brush that aside as one of the incidents of the savage civil war of Western Java, but it strikes the entire world in the vitals. Those plantations, representing years of development, are one of the chief sources of supply of indispensable products.

A Man And His Mother

When the telephone rang, and the family physician informed the president of the American people that his aged mother was sinking after a long fight, Harry Truman temporarily ceased to be the chief executive. He was on his way to the family home in Missouri, traveling by air, when the death of that mother came. There isn't much to be said when mothers die. They have a special place in the hearts of their sons, in the hearts of all men, which is a little too precious and too sacred to be discussed. To every mother of a son comes the hopes and the fears of a lifetime of adulation on her part, a love that surpasseth understanding, an understanding that surpasseth all other wisdom.

Within Reaching Distance

Over in neighboring Iowa late last week, police, initiating a "clean up" of the four-room house and premises of a 68-year-old Davenport recluse got the shock of their lives. They found more than $25,000 in cash and bonds in the rubbish. There it had been accumulated for 22 years, along with books showing deposits in banks strangely. Thousands of miles away in Africa another recluse turned up with more than a quarter of a million dollars. If the incidents provide any moral at all, human nature is pretty much the same and hasn't changed a great deal. Many people, infinitely more than the public realizes, still seem to derive a sense of security and a personal satisfaction in keeping their dough where they can lay their hands on it, in spite of the grave risks involved.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON
(Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen on active duty.)

WASHINGTON—Yesterday, in New York, I had the privilege of helping dedicate a veterans hospital swimming pool in memory of the four army chaplains of different faiths who, when their transport was torpedoed, gave their lifebelts to four GI's and leaped together into the sea.

One was Father John P. Washington of Newark, N. J., a Catholic. One was Rabbi Alexander Goode of York, Pa., a Jew. The two others were George L. Fox of Cambridge, Vt., and Clark V. Poling of Schenectady, N. Y., both Protestants. Praying together, hand in hand, they went to a common grave because they had a common cause—to make a world where men may live together side by side in peace, no matter what their race or creed.

So yesterday, in New York, the Bronx Veterans hospital swimming pool was dedicated to their memories, a place where veterans of all races and creeds may meet and mingle, as free from prejudice as the water which flows.

To me this was a new type of war memorial. Ordinarily, when we think of the artermath of war we think of the dead, the disabled, the ruined cities, the broken treaties. We seldom think of the history books on war or the war memorials. But they shape our thinking, too. History is more than words, and monuments are more than shapes in stone and bronze. They also shape our minds. If we ask a small boy about the Civil war, he will probably tell of a cannon in the town square or a picture of a general on horseback.

But what the little boys of tomorrow must be taught about the world war finished yesterday is the principles for which that war was fought, not the weapons used to achieve the victory.

Too many battles of the past have been commemorated by statues of fierce warriors in bronze or bristling cannons in the parks of the nation—grim reminders of the glamor, the excitement of battle. But what we need to be reminded of is not the weapons of war, but the principles for which men gave their lives in war.

And what the little boys of tomorrow must be taught about the world war finished today is that it started because the Fascists preached the doctrine of the superior race; and that it was won by those who believe that all men are created free and equal.

That's what the four chaplains believed when they gave up their lifebelts to face certain death on the transport Dorchester.

However, I am glad to report that Dr. Poling has gone ahead and is still raising money to commemorate the idea for which his son and the three other chaplains died—that it takes the wounds of black and white, the lives of Catholic, Protestant and Jew to win a war and make democracy live.

• • •

J. L., Chicago—the secret committee vote on whether to publish the report on fascism in Amercia put the Chicago Tribune's Congressman Fred Busbey against publication, together with Landis (Ind.), Cole (Mo.), Bishop (Ill.), all republicans. Meade of Maryland and Williams of Mississippi, democrats, were also opposed, Meade because he didn't like the references to the Du Ponts, and Williams because he was upset by references about ex-Senator Bilbo and the Ku Klux Klan.

Republicans who voted to publish the fascist reports were Corbett of Pennsylvania and Boggs of Delaware. Committee Chairman Karl Le Compte of Iowa refrained from voting. Democrats who lined up publicly for airing fascism in America were Deane (N. C.), Pickett (Tex.), Stanley (Va.), Passman (La.), Burleson (Tex.), Morris (Okla.), Smathers (Fla.), all from the south. Congressman Busbey objected to references to the Rockefellers, Morgans and Du Ponts, and their dangerous grip on American industry.

• • •

A gray-haired driver picked up Speaker Joe Martin as a passenger recently and got into an amiable conversation with him about politics.

"If I had been allowed to vote last November, I'd have voted republican," the driver told Martin. Martin beamed.

SPEAKER JOE MARTIN (above) heard a frank opinion expressed by a Washington cab driver taxiing him to his office.

"But now," the cabbie went on, "I've changed my mind. I think more of Harry Truman than I did. He's got spunk. He wouldn't okay the labor bill and he wouldn't okay the tax bill. That took guts."

"What was wrong with those bills?" Martin inquired.

• • •

"I don't like the labor bill," said the cabbie. "And I don't think millions of other people who work for a living like it, either."

"But millions of people voted last November," Martin reminded him.

"True, Mr. Speaker. You've got something there." The cabbie became pensive. "I guess those people had it coming to them. In this country, it seems, the only way to learn how to think or vote is to suffer the agonies of having voted the wrong way."

Sitting back in his seat, the speaker cut the conversation short. "You were engaged to drive me to a certain place," he said. "Do it."

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Objection To Tax

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In last night's paper Mr. Keck spoke of giving the old people more money. Why should we poor people be taxed senseless for them? They just turn around and buy cars and take long trips. I know of several old people that have cars and burn it up in gas. It would be different if they would take the money to live on and buy colthes. I love old folks, but I don't love to be taxed for them to spend their money foolishly.

C. E. WIDENER

Editorial Note: The writer does not indicate he is referring to elderly people on old age assistance.

Community Chore

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Your editorials regarding crime prevention at this time, particularly sex offenses ,are very pertinent. I hope you will continue the program with even more force and vigor. Your first appeal must necessarily be to encourage the law enforcement element to be more diligent in their duties. Equally important is to make an appeal to all charitable institutions to use more caution in dealing with transients or any other unknown applicant.

All such organizations including those of a character building type can render a great service in bringing to the attention of the law enforcement group the weak and the undesirable.

I see no point in railroading such people out of the vicinity to other areas where such people can and probably will cause similar suffering in the way of crime. Each community should safeguard their own area indeed, but almost equally as much do a similar job in protecting the good neighbors in surrounding territories. That can only be accomplished by having the proper laws and enforcement of said laws with a firm and kindly hand.

The only purpose of this letter is to encourage you and your organization to carry on as you have been doing to see that all of the fine women and children everywhere are given every protection possible.

JOHN P. MILLER

Pressure By Leaders

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Harry H. Rathburn, president of the Dairyman's league of New York, says the increase in taxes, not the increase in prices of food "is putting the big squeeze on consumers." His figures are taken from the agricultural department of Cornell university. In the normal years 1935-1939 consumers spent 23 per cent of income, before-taxes, for food. Today they spend for food exactly 23 per cent of income before-taxes. The total tax burden, federal, state and local, takes 32 cents out of each dollar earned. The increase in taxes more than reflect rising farm prices.

In the three terms or six years each under Governors Cochran and Griswold the appropriations for state government averaged about $55 million for each two year period. Both Cochran and Griswold had hearts that beat in sympathy with taxpayers. The late legislature appropriated for the cost of state government for the coming two years the gigantic sum of $116 million—more than double the cost fo reach biennium the previous 12 years.

Members of the legislature were elected on a nonpartisan ticket. Had they been elected on a political ballot, the dominant political party in each session, would and should, have been held responsible for such extravagance. Party leaders would have used pressure to prevent such a raid on the public treasury.

J. R. FARRIS.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by
MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON -- One of my secret agents has come across a document of such interest and importance that it is reproduced here. It is a dispatch from the ambassador of inner Utopia to his foreign minister.

Marquis Childs

With remarkable frankness, the ambassador, who has only recently come to Washington as the first envoy of his country to this capital, discusses the session of congress just concluding. Here, with only the flowery diplomatic language edited out, is the dispatch.

"Excellency: — It is doubtful that your excellency will appreciate the interest aroused here by a recent event which may or may not have come to your notice. This was the visit of the president to the senate, which is the upper chamber of their congress.

• • •

"It seems that never before in the history of the United States has it occurred that a president should sit on the floor of the senate, the present chief executive being a former member of that body. This will, of course, impress you as very strange. In our own parliament, the prime minister is on the floor each week, taking part in the debates.

"But, as I have tried to convey to your excellency from time to time, it is different here. I am gradually coming to learn the curious relationship—or lack of relationship—between the legislative branch of the government and the executive. They are engaged, if I may put it so, in a kind of warfare.

"This comes about because the chief executive is a member of one party, the democrats, and the majority in the legislature are members of the other party, the republicans. It is extraordinary that this could occur but it is the fact and, unhappily, this same division will prevail next year, too, since not until November of 1948 do the American people elect a new president.

"I have come to realize, excellency, that this is the explanation for much that otherwise I have been unable to understand. A request from the executive is almost always ignored by the legislature, and the executive has repeatedly, as I have said in earlier dispatches, rejected the acts of the parliament.

"You have several times inquired, excellency, about the information program conducted by the department of state. You haxe expressed a wonder that so rich and great a country as the United States should be restricting this elementary program at a time when the propaganda of the Soviet union continues to be ever more pervasive and insistent. I have your tclegram of 20th July informing me that the libraries maintained in inner Utopia by the United States information service are now to be closed and expressing your profound regret that this should be so.

"I have in turn conveyed this regret to the department of state. But I am coming to understand that the fault does not lie with the department of state. It derives apparently from the suspicion in congress of the agents of the executive branch of the government who are carrying out the information program.

"This is a most extraordinary condition, excellency, and the following I shall have to ask you to believe, even though I know it sounds scarcely rational. The party in control of the legislature has deprived the executive of $20,000,000 requested to pay tax collectors. These tax collectors, it seems quite clear, would be able to bring into the treasury at least $400,000,000 by their efforts. Thus the treasury is deprived of this very considerable revenue for reasons that must be related to partisan rivalry between the two parties in the two branches of the government.

• • •

"I have recently read a book called 'Twentieth Century Congress' written by a member of the lower house, the Hon. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. This proposes, among other things, that the executive send permanent ambassadors to the congress who would have their offices in the capitol and meet with a policy-making committee of legislators. I shall send you a copy of this book, as it may help you to understand the dilemma of the government in Washington.

"The American people have so many qualities of greatness—their capacity to organize industry, their energy, their good will. Yet they submit to the handicap of a divided government. I beg to remain, yours, etc."

Garden Glances
WITH THE MOON

"Nature should be watched, her time of ripening observed, and something done every day, not everything altogether."

By CECILE PARRISH SWINGLE.

It's second lunar quarter and today the moon is in the barren and fiery sign, Sagittarius. Tomorrow afternoon at 1:05 it will enter the earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Capricorn. Then Friday near 2 a. m. it will enter the airy and barren sign, Aquarius.

What pleasure and joy is to be had with an herb garden. Sometimes methinks I'm fondest of all of this spot in our garden. And particularly is it true when so many of the herbs are ripening and ready to pluck.

We've cut the dill, tied it in bunches and hung to cure in our back hall where we can get a whiff, now and then, of its pungent fragrance. Thyme is there, too. One of these days it will be dry and time to strip the leaves and tiny lavender blooms from the stems. Then I shall place them in small jars and label and they are all ready for gifts to friends and neighbors. There's nothing quite like the flavor of thyme in roast, sausage or stuffing for poultry.

I don't make "dill pickles." Not because we do not like them, because we do, but 'tis easier to buy the few we use and spend my time with something tastier that we cannot buy. I do, however, sometimes use dill seeds in beet pickles. Have you ever tried this? And I make dill flavored vinegar and have it ready to use in salads come the winter. And in deviled eggs—well, just a suggestion of dill is different and will tickle the jaded palates of those who think they've tasted everything and are bored with it all.

Then, too, I use the fresh feathery leaves, cut very fine, in a green salad and also in potato salad. Our salads are mostly, in the summer time, gastronomic mysteries of very fine flavor and we seem to thrive on them. There's nothing takes the place of a little inventing and imagination in one's summer meals or so we seem to think. And when one has an herb garden right at one's finger tips so much is possible. So until Wednesday.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST

BEAUTY

Beauty is something man must share.
The moonbeams on the water thrown,
A landscape, howsoever fair,
Hold little joy when viewed alone.

A sunset and the sky aglow,
A cardinal's silver song and clear,
As all who stand alone well know,
Around the wish of loved ones near.

There is no splendor or delight
And no exquisite moment rare
Of ecstasy, by day or night,
But brings with it the wish to share.

FOR MAN—THE LAND—AND GOD

Mid-week in Lincoln Methodism in America will plough new soil. It holds its first nation-wide rural life conference in the Nebraska capital on the three closing days of the month. And it has chosen such an appropriate theme for this gathering to which hundreds of distinguished church leaders will come—"For Man—the Land—and God."

★ ★ ★

That is a stirring cry to the spiritual conscience of a nation. Together the three can work miracles—the good miracle—alone, man and the land lose one of the infinite satisfactions of living. This innovation in church activity comes at a time when the great need of it is apparent—not that the pastoral atmosphere of the countryside has lost its spiritual flavor, or its godliness. It remains the fabric of the American fabric; the source of a great deal of the virility, the strength, and the spiritual impulses of a country that has grown up.

★ ★ ★

But in a very practical, simple fashion, rural America has not kept pace with some other sections of America, and there is much to do. Its educational opportunities are limited, altogether too many of its homes are without the most common necessities of life; that is, life patterned upon the highest of American standards of living. In lessened degree the very human, warming and invigorating qualities of neighborliness have suffered just the same as profound changes have affected the great American cities. Sanitation and health are concerns of rural America, the last frontier of isolated existence in a closely-knit country.

★ ★ ★

It calls for little intelligence, very little sensitiveness for the men, women and children on the farm to know that there is a God, a beneficent God, whose handiwork is spread out in front of them in the fields, along the winding streams and in the woods. There in all its peace is the opportunity for reflection, and in the closeness of nature itself the developing aspirations for the more decent things of life. There character has its greatest chance for freedom from those forces which would circumscribe it.

★ ★ ★

But health on the farm beyond the inherent advantages of life in the open, lights on the farm to replace obsolete coal oil lamps, continuing fertile soil for the seed, and a hundred practical problems extend an inviting finger for investigation and action. The rise and the fall of prosperity—the joy and the despair of farm families—the opportunities for education and continued intellectual growth are not insurmountable—they are open to solution as all of America's problems are, challenging the courage and fine impulses of a nation.

Man, finest product of God himself—land of our fathers, its rocks and rills, its woods and templed hills—and finally God himself—these are the forces which a thousand years hence will write the verdict for American civilization.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Bums Streak To 9

DOUBLE RED SOX WIN CUTS YANKS' LEAD; WILLIAMS, WALKER PACERS

By JOE REICHLER.
(Associated Press Sports Writer).

THE pennant picture in the major leagues has taken on a new aspect in recent days all because of a couple of real professionals—Ted Williams and Dixie Walker.

Only a week ago experts were predicting a New York Yankee rout in the American league flag race while forecasting another nerve - tingling down - to-the-wire finish in the National. The Yankees were 12½ games ahead of the Boston Red Sox while the Brooklyn Dodgers were only two and a half in front of the Boston Braves and New York Giants.

Dixie Walker

But today, the Red Sox, led by Williams, once again the "Terrible Teddy" of the 1941 and '42 seasons, have cut three full games off the Yankees' lead and now trail by nine and a half games.

The Dodgers, with Walker hitting with the same old gusto that established him as the "people's cherce" in Flatbush, have opened up a seven game bulge over the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

Williams, stymied by the assorted shifts set up against his left handed pull hitting, finally broke through the unorthodox defense with a tremendous power display that enabled him to raise his early July average of .297 to .330. During the past three weeks, Ted has been belting at a .420 clip.

Walker bettered his July 8 mark of .279 to an even .300 in three weeks. During that stretch, Dixie has been walloping the ball at a .367 clip.

Dixie drove in three runs yesterday to help the Dodgers sweep both ends of a double header from the Pirates in Pittsburgh, 8-4 and 11-4, and extended their latest winning streak to nine. Hank Behrman, recently returned by Pittsburgh, won his third straight for the Brooks in the opener, but needed a masterful relief exhibition by Hugh Casey to escape with the win.

Rundle Gains Semis State Net Tourney

. . . Singles, Doubles

University of Nebraska's net coach, Harold Rundle, blazed his way to the semi-finals of the State Tennis singles competition by taking two matches at the Lincoln Tennis club courts Sunday.

Rundle dropped Mark Bullock of Lincoln 6-1, 6-1 in his first match before returning to blast Jack Ringwalt, Omaha, out of the running 6-3, 6-2.

Rundle will meet Lou Gerdes of Omaha in the semi-final round next Saturday. Gerdes advanced to the semis with a Saturday victory over Lincoln's Kenny Brown.

Sam Nutty and Bob Slezak will meet in an all-Lincoln semi-final duel in the other men's singles match next Saturday. Nutty ousted Omaha's Dave Hanighen 6-3, 6-1 while Slezak dropped Herb Meile of Omaha by identical 6-3 scores.

Rundle completed an iron-man's chore Sunday by teaming with Slezak to defeat the Al Granfield and Tony Cudahy due from Omaha in the men's doubles play. The Nebraska university coach-player pair posted 6-3, 6-1 counts.

Bob Garrett and Hanighen teamed to drop Ralph Reeder and Voris Peden of Lincoln 6-4, 6-3. Ringwalt and Nutty whitewashed Lincoln's Roett-Dillon combination 6-0, 6-0.

Lincoln Muny courts champ, Bob Bruns, dropped his junior men's singles match to Don Blocker, jr., of Omaha 4-6, 6-1, 6-4 in one of the day's best matches. Dick Halpine moved past his Omaha mate, Kenneth Paulsen, 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 while Lincoln's Dick Means breezed by John Tatom, jr. of Omaha in other junior men's matches.

MEN'S SINGLES.

San Nutty, Lincoln, beat Dave Hanihen, Omaha, 6-3, 6-1.
Bob Slezak, Lincoln, beat Herb Meile, Omaha, 6-3, 6-3.
Harold Rundle, Lincoln, beat Mark Bullock, Lincoln, 6-1, 6-1.
Harold Rundie, Lincoln, beat Jack Ringwalt, Omaha, 6-3, 6-2.

JUNIOR MEN'S SINGLES.

Stromsburg Nine Edges Sandy's 4-3

Pop Williams' ninth inning pinch single drove in the winning run for Stromsburg as Max Quick won a 4-3 decision in the expected mound duel with Sandy Silverio's Smokey Molden at Sherman Field Sunday afternoon.

Don Geery lived on an error by Shortstop Bob Grogan, moved to second on Merle Kaeding's single and trotted home when the 53-year-old Williams drove a single to center.

Molden, except for a shaky first inning and the disastrous ninth, held the Stromsburg nine well in check. The Goetz ace gave up only five safeties and whiffed six while issuing one free pass. Quick was nicked for seven hits and struck out five. He also gave up one base on balls.

Stromsburg tallied three times in the opening frame before Molden could settle down.

The Sandy's picked up two runs in the third. Fritz Hegwood sacrificed and Bill Jennings rapped a single to score Molden and Bill Jennings.

Silverio's crew threatened mildly with two down in the bottom half of the ninth, but Pete Kortum was tagged out at third on a daring piece of base running to end the game.

AT HOME TONIGHT

The A's return to Sherman Field tonight to open a four-day stand against the league leading Soos which will see the two teams meeting in eight games. The twin bills each night will start at 6:30.

Manager Ham Schulte has not decided which one of his hurlers will draw the starting nod. It will be a tough selection to make from his already tired staff as almost all saw action in the losing five game series at Sioux City.

Soos Drop A's Again; 7-2 Count

. . . At Home Tonight

SIOUX CITY, Ia. —(AP)—The Sioux City Soos stretched their win streak to seven games and made it five in a row over the last place Lincoln Athletics here Sunday night, 7-2.

Johnny Niggeling, the former major league knuckleballer, gained his seventh win of the season as he scattered ten hits.

Lincoln scored once in the seventh on Skeen's single and Kobesky's double and again in the ninth on Kobesky's home run.

The Soos pecked at lefty Cal McIrvin for single runs in the third and fourth, then counted two in the fifth on Carlson's homer with one aboard. In the sixth Mel Harpuder poled a two-run homer for the Soos and Garcia's double sent Carlson over with the final run.

OMAHA SPLITS.

DENVER — (AP) — Pitcher Harry Garbett of the Denver Bears, which split a doubleheader with Omaha Sunday, had a busy afternoon as he was credited with the victory in the first and charged with the loss of the second, then ordered transferred to Binghamton of the Eastern league, another New York Yankee farm club.

The Bears squeezed out an 8-7 win in the nine-inning opener when Bill Burgess, Denver centerfielder, pounded out a homer with two out in the final inning.

PUEBLO NUDGED.

PUEBLO, Colo. —(AP)— The Des Moines Bruins took a narrow 8-7 win from the Pueblo Dodgers here Sunday night by coming from behind with a four run rally to pick off the victory. Pitcher Lammers was the victor for the third place Des Moines club.

Colonels Trail Kansas City Hot AA Race

(By the Associated Press)

The pace-seatting Kansas City Blues just don't seem able to shake the stubborn Louisville Colonels in the American association race, but they have a golden opportunity this week in a four-game set with last-place Toledo.

The Blues, who (Sunday) divided a twin bill with Columbus in 100-degree weather at Kansas City, today will open the series against the tail-end Mud Hens holding a narrow two-game lead over the pressing Colonels, who also split yesterday with St. Paul.

By salvaging the nightcap, 4-3, after losing the opener, 10-2, the Colonels wound up a St. Paul invasion with four victories in five starts against the Saints.

It required steady pitching by Bill Wight, who notched his 11th win against seven defeats, for Kansas City to down Columbus 5-1 after the Red Birds copped the opener, 4-2.

The association's two other bargain bills yesterday also were give-and-take. Milwaukee handed Toledo its sixth straight trimming in the opener, 2-1, and then were nipped in the finale, 5-3. Minneapolis topped Indianapolis, 4-1, then lost 8-4.

Mauriello Given 5-7 Edge Over Lesnevich

NEW YORK—(INS)—Tami Mauriello, New York heavyweight who gave Joe Louis a scare last year, is a 5 to 7 favorite to defeat Gus Lesnevich, light-heavyweight champion, in the 10-round, non-title bout at Ebbets Field Wednesday night.

Lesnevich holds two decisions over Mauriello, but at that time —1941—Tami was a light-heavyweight.

All profits from the program, biggest outdoor boxing show around New York this summer, will be donated to the Damon Runyon Memorial cancer fund.

Father, Son Duo Cop Legion Tourney Honors

OMAHA—(AP)—James L. Rich, sr., of Columbus, and his son, James, jr., split most of the honors in the American Legion golf tournament held Sunday.

The elder Rich fired a three-over-par 75 for honors, among entries 50 years old or older, and his son paced 80 entries in the field of those under 50 with a 70. Young Rich also tied with E. M. Moyer of Omaha for the prize for the youngest entry. Both are 20.

Others who shared in the seven prizes were R. E. Townsend of Grand Island, who won a blind bogey prize with a 79 and W. R. Risesenberg of North Platte, entry from the greatest distance.

Hillcrest Meet Hits 2nd Round

. . . Reed Fires 70

BY RALPH STEWART.
(Star Sports Staff Member)

Playing under a blazing sun Lincoln Hillcrest women completed the first round of play in quest of the club championship Monday morning.

Mrs. Carl Fisher ousted Mrs. Ray Kimmell with a 2 and 1 victory in the championship flight. Mrs. Paul Miller was defeated by Mrs. William Sheehy 3 and 1 while Mrs. R. R. Robinson eliminated Mrs. Charles Pierce 2 and 1. In the other championship pairing Mrs. Herman Gartner defaulted to Mrs. Scott, city links title holder. Mrs. Gartner suffered an attack of appendicitis Sunday.

First Flight.

Mrs. C. E. Squire defeated Mrs. Sam Toska, 3 and 2.
Mrs. Walt Hunter defeated Mrs. W. B. Miller, default.
Mrs. Charles Ammon defeated Mrs. Sam Schleiger, 4 and 2.

Second Flight.

Mrs. Art Boyer defeated Mrs. Roy Weiss, 2 and 1.
Mrs. R. A. Monroe defeated Mrs. W. E. Smith, 4 and 3.

Third Flight.

Mrs. D. J. Horn defeated Mrs. Bill Blythe, 5 and 4.
Mrs. H. I. Stockstill defeated Mrs. By Adams, 2-up.
Mrs. Al Sollander defeated Mrs. Herman Rohrig, 3 and 1.

Whitey Reed toured the Hillcrest links with a 70 to drop Vern Strauch as the men opened play for the men's club title. Hank Strauch defeated Don Albin 2 and 1, while By Adams moved past Rolly Bailey 2 and 1.

In the best match of the day Bill Blythe defeated Don Keefe 1-up. Keefe had Blythe 3-up at the turn, but Bill rallied to win the match on the final hole. In the other championship flight matches played Sunday Allen Stoehr defeated George Farley and Gene Chadwell won from A. A. Olson 2 and 1.

Second round matches in the men's tourney may be played anytime during this week.

Mr. Fred Patz copped the low putts event in the mixed foursome played at the Lincoln country club Sunday. Mrs. Patz won the same event in the ladies' with 14, one more than Fred required over the nine holes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Williamson tied with Mrs. Carl Rohman and Ky Rohman for the low gross score with 90s. Bud fired a 34 while Mrs. Williamson shot a 56. The Rohman's each fired 45s.

Low net score went to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hunt. A 92 gross with a 12 handicap netted them an 80 low.

Over 38 entered the foursome event.

Bill Murrell carded a 73 for low Sunday score. Willie Polite toured the Country Club links with a 76 and Bill Mobray fired a 77.

The Lincoln ladies' handicap tourney moves into the semi-final stages Tuesday.

Miss Gertrude Krausnick meets Mrs. Hunt in the championship flight while Mrs. Peg Anderson will play the winner of the Mrs. Rohman-Mrs. Alloway match.

Mrs. Crabill defeated Mrs. Von Gillern to gain a spot in the first flight finals. Mrs. Johnson plays the winner of the Mrs. Joyce-Mrs. Miller match to determine Mrs. Crabill's opponent.

Lincoln Blues Hand Welders 17-12 Defeat

The Lincoln Blues, city Legion nine, pounded out a 17-12 win over the Lincoln Welders Sunday afternoon at Sherman Field.

Dick Cordell, on the mound for the Blues, whiffed six in gaining the victory. Jack Lauder hurled for the Welders.

Weary Solons Trek Home

Taxes, Labor And High Cost Of Living Loom As Top Issues For Coming Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sign posts pointing toward teamwork with the White House on world affairs, slugging matches on domestic problems and hot 1948 election issues stand along the rough road the 80th congress traveled to its own halfway mark.

The first session crashed to a close in Sunday's early hours.

Adjournment until January—unless President Truman or republican leaders call an emergency session sooner—shot off a raucous, roaring political scrap in the senate and a back-slapping, rollicking songfest in the house.

Weary members now are beating a path back home to find out what the people think of this first "streamlined" congress, this first republican-controlled congress in a decade and a half.

Reaction Important.

The grass roots reaction is important. Top issues already are shaping up for next year's electioneering for a president, all 435 house members and 32 of the 96 senators. For instance:

There are taxes and labor, the high cost of living and the high cost of government.

And there are enough legislative leftovers for the next session to concoct a sizeable dish of political controversies.

Held on the hook until next winter were such measures as universal military training, long-range housing, military co-operation with Latin America, a minimum wage boost for the lowest paid interstate workers and loyalty checks on government workers.

It was a political battle royal in the senate that kept congress on the job on a Sabbath for the first time since 1929.

Clark Inquiry Blocked.

Democrats had succeeded in blocking a republican bid for a full-scale investigation into Attorney General Clark's handling of vote fraud charges in Kansas City.

Sen. Brewster (R-Me) tried to get even by preventing approval of the nomination of Philip B. Perlman of Baltimore to be solicitor general, a top-rank spot under Clark.

Tempers were raw and faces flushed after Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) complained that democrats had filibustered against the vote fraud inquiry and Sen. Connally (D-Tex) came back with an angry reply. Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich), as presiding officer, at one point ordered Connally to "take his seat."

Brewster finally gave up. The senate confirmed Perlman 58 to 21 and adjourned at 1:59 a. m. (CST).

In the house, members had finished a final fling of republican-democratic bickering over econom yaround 7 p. m. Saturday.

House Members Sing.

So, arms around shoulders, they gave way to close harmony of the barbershop variety. They tuned up on old favorites, like "Home Sweet Home." Shortly after midnight they voted to go there.

Back at the cross roads there are such ready-made political issues as:

1. Taxes. Congress voted twice to trim income taxes $4,000,000,000. President Truman vetoed both bills. The vetoes stuck. The bills died.

2. Labor. Congress passed a bill to make unions liable to punishment for many things never before penalized. Organized labor and the president denounced it. Congress made the bill a law over a veto.

3 Spending. Republicans and democrats squabbled all through the session about trimming government expenses.

Mr. Truman asked last January for some $37,500,000,000 to run the government in the year that began July 1.

The house decided to whack $6,000,000,000 of the total. The senate figured $4,500,000,000 would be enough of a slash. They never did get together and split the difference—even though they were supposed to under the 1946 reorganization law which supposedly streamlined congress.

1,017 Fires In State During First 6 Months

Most of the 1,017 fires occuring in the state the first six months of this year were in the home and caused by smoking, the state fire marshal reports. Loss was $1,577,084 as compared with $1,415,459 during the same period last year.

Rural losses showed a marked decline this year. Only 178 blazes, with losses of $259,647, were reported as compared with 268 and $536,248 lost a year ago.

Thieves Get $250 Property In Home

Property valued at $250 was stolen from a house at 3925 North Sixty-ninth street sometime since Tuesday, Mrs. Nellie Campbell, 4211 North Sixtieth street, told police Sunday.

Intruders entered by removing a screen on a front window and reaching through a small hole in the glass to unlatch the window.

An opal set wedding ring, radio, dishes, bedspread, and baby ring were included in the loot. The house was thoroughly ransacked, police reported.

Application Filed For License Transfer

The second application for transfer of an on-and-off sale beer license to be filed with the city clerk within the week is that of C. R. Hudson, who asks that he be issued a license at 1500 O street. The present license holder at that address is James B. Stack.

This application, plus that of Hal and Frank W. Coffey for the beer license now held by John Eckhardt for 946 P street, reaches the city council at a time when it has not yet reached a decision regarding a change in policy to require that a license be surrendered before a new licensee is considered.

Stocks Have Uneven Close

NEW YORK—(AP)—Quiet strength of oils and special stocks kept the market fairly well balanced today although many leaders backed into losing ground.

Buying enthusiasm generally waned after a moderately active opening. Dealings tapered as the direction clouded. While gains of fraction to a point or more, including new highs for the year, were well distributed near the close, numerous minus signs persisted. Transfers for the full stretch ran to around 1,000,000 shares.

A few railway bonds stiffened.

—Open Letter Says: 'Tell Whole Truth'—

Hughes Hits At Brewster

14 Million Lost In Plane Ventures, Wealthy Californian Tells Senator

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—Howard Hughes, in an "open letter," copyrighted by the Los Angeles Examiner, today asked Sen. Owen Brewster, chairman of the war investigating committee, to tell what he termed the "whole truth" about Hughes' wartime activities and plane contracts.

Hughes said that during his 13 years in the airplane business he had lost 14 million dollars and that in all his transactions with the government he had made "no profit, whatsoever." Hughes stated:

"I worked pretty hard for what money I have, and I didn't make it from the government and didn't make it from airplanes."

Hughes said he didn't think he had defrauded the government and that he "entertained whom he pleased."

Sorry Some Embarrassed.

It had been intimated as a result of the congressional probe that Hughes was responsible through his publicity man, Johnny Meyer, for throwing lavish parties for influential officials in connection with wartime contracts.

Hughes, in the Examiner "letter," said he was sorry if certain men "are embarrassed because they have been entertained by me, but if they are embarrassed that's because they are in politics, and politics is a strange game."

Hughes asked Brewster to reveal that the congressional inquiry really was begun by Brewster when TWA (Hughes' airline) invaded the territory of Pan-American Airways system by flying the Atlantic.

Hughes' Letter.

Here is the Hughes letter in part, as carried by the Examiner:

"Dear Senator Brewster:

"While you are telling, why don't you tell all?

"Why don't you tell about the time you invited me to lunch in your suite at the Mayflower hotel and the proposition you put to me?

"Why don't you tell about the flight Juan Trippe made to the coast to see me, and the two-day conference we had? (April 12 and 13, 1947.) Why don't you tell what we were talking about?

(Editor's note: Juan Trippe is president of Pan-American Airways system.)

"Only Private Citizen."

"And, incidentally, since you think it is so horrible for anyone to accept my hospitality, why don't you tell about the $1,400 worth of airplane trips which you requested and accepted from me? (Feb. 10 and 11, 1947.)

"You know, senator, if you hadn't gone too far overboard, I might have been willing to take a certain shellacking in this publicity spree of yours.

"Yes, I might have been willing to sit back and take a certain amount of abuse simply because I am only a private citizen while you are a senator with all sorts of rights and powers to subpoena me, make me drop my work, and travel 2,500 miles back there to Washington, and otherwise cause me no end of inconvenience.

Politics A Strange Game.

"So I sat back and let you do the talking for five days. But one thing you said, which just appeared in the papers, sort of stuck in my mind.

"You said that I asked you to send someone out here to check through my books. Now, you know, that statement is true. I did make that request, because I have nothing to hide and I have done nothing I am ashamed of.

"I am sorry if certain men are embarrassed because they have been entertained by me. But if they are embassassed that's bectuse they are in politics, and politics is a strange game.

"However, I am not a politician. I am just an ordinary citizen. I entertain whomever I please. There is no law against it.

"I worked pretty hard for what money I have, and I didn't make it from the government—and I didn't make it from airplanes.

"All in all, in my transactions with the government I have made no profit whatsoever.

(Editor's Note: Last three words capitalized).

"Furthermore, I and by companies have paid taxes to the government totalling 25 million dollars. And I have paid salaries to employes totalling 300 million dollars.

"As far as the airplane business is concerned, I have been in it 13 years and this is the result I have lost 14 million dollars.

"So I don't think I have been defrauding the government. Nevertheless, in other fields of endeavor, I have made a little money, and since I am just an ordinary citizen with the same rights as the next man, I entertain whom I please. As I said, there is no law against it.

"Now, senator, to get back to your statement you also said that I telephoned you in Kansas City and told you to make this investigation of my airplane projects. Well senator, that's pretty nearly true. I did tell you to go ahead with the investigation, because I was not afraid of it and I had been threatened long enough.

"But, Senator, since you are telling that much, why give the impression that the investigation was initiated on that day? Why not tell the whole truth?

"Why not tell when this investigation was really born?

"Why not tell that this investigation was realy born on the day that TWA (Trans-World Airline) first flew the Atlantic? On the day when TWA first invaded Juan Trippe's territory—on the day when TWA first challenged the generally accepted theory that only Juan Trippe's great Pan-American Airways had the sacred right to fly the Atlantic.

Two-Day Conference.

"And why not tell about the day you invited me to lunch in your suite at the Mayflower hotel? (during the week of Feb. 10, 1947.)

"And why not tell about the things you said to me and the proposition you put to me?

"And why not tell about my answer: That I would have to think it over 30 days, and that I would let Mr. Trippe know at the end of that time.

"And why not tell about Mr. Trippe's flight to the coast to see me, and how Mr. Trippe and Mr. Dietrich and I spent two days closeted in conference at Palm Springs, Calif.? (April 12 and 13, 1947). And why not tell what we were talking about for those two days?

"And while you are at it, senator, why not tell about the two airplane trips you bummed off me?

"Sincerely,
"HOWARD HUGHES"

Murder Count To Be Filed On Tuesday

... Against George Lee

An information charging George Thomas Lee, 16, with the first degree murder of Charles Mulholland, 8, will be filed in District court Tuesday morning.

County Attorney Frederick Wagener said Monday that along with the information and a transcript of Municipal court records he would also file a motion for the appointment of an attorney for Lee.

Lee pleaded guilty in Municipal court to the strangulation slaying of the boy on July 14. He was bound to District court without bond and is now in the county jail.

Wheat Has A Sinking Spell

CHICAGO—(AP)—A heavy movement of grain from the country today undermined prices for the bread cereal on the board of trade. Wheat dropped around 3 cents at times. Minor rallies were not able to carry far in the face of large hedging pressure.

Wheat receipts at five southwestern terminals today totaled 3,930 cars against 1,712 cars a year ago. Visible supply of the grain increased this week by 23,032,000 bushels, bringing the total supply to 65,726,000 bushels.

Neither corn nor ats were able to display much strength. At one time corn rallied sharply on buying by commercial houses, but the grain was not able to get far above Saturday's close. Oats lagged throughout the session. Early strength in lard ran into hedging from packers.

Wheat close 2⅛-3½ lower, September $2.31¼@2.31; corn was 1¼-1⅝ lower, September $2.07⅝@⅞, and oats were 1¾-2⅜ lower, September 91⅛-90⅝. Lard ended 25 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $18.25; losing all its early gains.

Prospects For Apple Crop Said To Be Excellent

. . . In Richardson

FALLS CITY, Neb.—(AP)—Good growing weather came to the rescue of Richardson county orchard owners this year, with the result that a 100,000-bushel apple crop is in prospect, Loy L. Franklin of Falls City, former orchardist, estimated today.

Franklin found that the crop is of excellent quality and that bountiful moisture and lack of extremely high temperatures were bolstering the hopes of the fruit men.

The yield will be far below those prior to 1940, however, when several hundred thousand bushels were harvested annually.

The 1940 Armistice day freeze dealt a severe blow to the orchards and many owners were so badly discouraged that they have made no attempt to re-enter the business. Especially hard hit by the freeze were the Winesaps and Black Twigs. Trees bearing these two varieties virtually were wiped out. Others that apparently survived are dying now.

Franklin learned in canvassing the county that the insect and worm problems are preventing other former big growers from re-entering the fruit business.

C. Of C. To Modernize Incorporation Articles

Stockholders of the chamber of commerce, which includes all senior and life members, will meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 5 to vote on a number of proposed amendments to the articles of incorporation, according to Ernest L. Smith, chamber president.

Prepared by a special committee headed by Earl S. Fullbrook, the amendments are to modernize the articles of incorporation and to provide for an increased number of members on the board of directors.

Police Arrest 32,029 In First 6-Month Period

. . . 39 Sex Offenses

A total of 32,029 arrests were made by the Lincoln police department during the first six months of 1947, according to a report filed with the city clerk.

Of the total, 25,737 were for parking violations and 4,084 were accounted for by all other types of traffic violations. These included 61 drunken drivers, 52 who failed to stop at the scene of accidents, 458 reckless and careless drivers, and 910 speeders.

The record for sex crimes showed 39 arrests, including one for rape, one for sodomy, six for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, four window peepers and 27 for indecent exposure. These statistics do not include the many arrests for this type of crime since June 30.

For other types of crime, arrests were made for one manslaughter, 20 assaults, five armed robberies, nine cases of grand larceny two cases of carrying concealed weapons, four auto thefts, eight cases of breaking and entering, 45 examples of petit larceny, and 27 violations of the liquor ordinance.

Omaha Youth Killed In Auto Accident

OMAHA—(AP)—Harley Smith, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith of Omaha, was fatally injured Sunday when the car in which he was riding plunged into a ditch on the outskirts of Omaha.

John E. Magnuson, 16, also of Omaha, was driver of the car.

County officials said the accident occurred during what they called a "race" between two automobiles.

James Roosevelts Expect Third Child

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.—(AP)—The James Roosevelts are expecting their third child in February.

Roosevelt, eldest son of the late president, gave out the news. He and the former Romelle Schneider have two sons, James, 21 months, and Michael Anthony, 8 months.

Driver Hurt In Auto-Truck Collision

Kenneth Barnhouse, 36, of 2828 North Fifty-seventh, required four stitches for a scalp wound received Saturday night in a car-truck collision on North Tenth street at the Oak creek bridge.

Barnhouse was going north on Tenth when his left front wheel grabbed, he told police. His car was pulled suddenly into the path of an oncoming truck, he added. The truck was driven by Willard M. Goldenstein, 28, of Hastings.

Scribner Vet Is Victim Of Polio

OMAHA—(AP)—Albert Steinbach, 21, of Scribner, Neb., who was brought to Omaha Sunday for treatment of polio, died about six hours after his admission to the hospital.

Steinbach, a navy veteran, was the third polio fatality in Omaha this year.

Survivors include his widow, Lorene, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Steinbech of Scribner.

The tubercle bacillus was discovered by Robert Koch in 1890.

The tulip is a member of the lily family.

JUMP OUT OF BED IN THE MORNING RARIN' TO WORK

Maybe you can by putting rich red color in your blood.

Food and flesh are always burning up inside of us. That's what gives us going power. The smoke from this fire is a dopey gas. They call it carbon-dioxide gas. It is carried up into our lungs by the red color in our blood. Our lungs puff it out into the air.

But our blood often turns pale from the kind of food we eat. Pale blood may not carry all the dopey gas up to our lungs. What's left in us can make us feel weak, dopey, cross as two sticks.

When you feel like a drowned cat from pale blood try Nuxated Iron. Let Nuxated Iron help bring back the red color in your blood to carry out more dopey gas. See if you don't feel like jumping out of bed in the morning rarin' to work. Take Nuxated Iron tablets for quite a while as directed on label.

Control Board Not Limited On Aid Payments

. . . Opinion Declares

Ceiling of twice the amount of the federal contribution, of $50 on Nebraska old age payments, unless the county board approves a higher ceiling, does not preclude review on appeal by the state board of control.

Nor, said Assistant Attorney General Homer Kyle, does LB 543 passed by the last legislature preclude the board of control from requiring uniformity of administration of grants to recipients in conformity with federal regulations. LB 543 becomes effective Sept. 10.

No Restriction.

Kyle told Assistance Director Neil Vandemoer in an opinion that the bill does not restrict or limit the authority of the board of control in administering the grants.

"It seems clear that the legislature intended that the authority of the board of control . . . should remain unimpaired.

"Any diversion of this authority to the county boards or other agencies would be repugnant to the conditions under which federal aid is granted and would jeopardize the status of Nebraska as a recipient of such assistance," Kyle wrote.

Independent Legislation.

He added, "had the legislature intended to vest authority to administer the act in the county boards or other agencies than the board of control, it would have achieved this result by independent legislation not affecting the state plan under which federal aid is received."

Where county boards approve a ceiling over the $50 top, the state will pay 75 per cent of the cost and the county 25 per cent.

This could be done to cover actual need cases or provide needed medical care.

Spontaneous Combustion Blamed For Arsenal Fire

DENVER—(INS)—Col. Charles S. Shadle, commanding the Rocky Mountain arsenal four miles northeast of Denver, blamed spontaneous combustion in coal bunkers at the main power house for a fire last night which threatened the whole 40-million-dollar plant.

An estimated 50 thousand dollars worth of damage was done.

Firemen under Denver Fire Chief Allie Feldman checked the flames after the eastern part of the six-story power plant was destroyed.

Stored in the 20-000-acre tract, where incendiary bombs were made for the attacks on Tokyo and Nagoya in 1945, are both mustard gas shells and heavy mortar shells.
